New troop in two years

Patrol unit to locate here

A satellite office of the Missouri State Highway Patrol will be opened in Sikeston in mid- October and will probably be expanded into a full headquarters for a new troop within two to three years, it was announced today by State Rep. C.F. Cline.

Oficially the satellite office is being established on a trial basis, but said the Sikeston Democrat there is no question in his mind that it will be developed into a separate troop. The only question is how long it will take. He said it probably will take one to three years.

The satellite headquarters is dependent upon passage of House Bill 539, now pending before the General Assembly. The bill was introduced by Rep. Gene Copeland, Democrat of New Madrid, and Rep. O.L. Wallis, Republican of Poplar Bluff. Cline said easy passage of the bill is expected.

Cline denied the plan to build the satellite headquarters, and eventually to create a new troop with headquarters in Sikeston, was à political concession to Sikeston. He said Col. Sam Smith, patrol superintendent, had originally proposed the plan while E.I. Hockaday was still the patrol commander.

Sikeston recently lost the battle to obtain the new Troop E headquarters for the city. The headquarters will remain in Poplar Bluff.

No plans for a new building have yet been drawn, Cline said. Until a new building can be built, the satellite office will operate out of a State Highway Department building located between East Malone Avenue and Garwood. The patrol currently used one room of the building as a zone office, but will take over the whole building when it moves in.

Cline said once agreement is reached on the bill, it began to move quickly through the House. He said he expects the House to pass the bill next week.

The Senate also is expected to deal with the bill quickly, Cline said. He added he expects no trouble getting Gov. Christopher Bond to sign the measure.

"Tentative plans call for a 24-hour-a-day, fully operational unit that will give the people of Sikeston and the surrounding counties greater accessibility either by telephone or by personal visit to the highway patrol," Cline said.

The exact size of the future troop has not yet been established, Cline said, but radio coverage will extend from Perry County to the Arkansas state line. The new troop can be expected to incorporate that area, Cline said.

"The plan calls for the sattelite headquarters and the personnel assigned to that headquarters to be commanded by a lieutenant who will directly supervise three or four zones of operation," Cline said. Also headquartered at this unit will be an assistant safety officer, assistant motor vehicle inspection officer, assistant commercial motor vehicle enforcement officer and other necessary field personnel.

Woman of year

Mrs. Warren Manning, 600 Holly Hill Drive, was named Woman of the Year Thursday night at the annual banquet sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club. She was presented roses, a silver bowl, governor's award, a key to the city and a charm.

Fire destroyed the Eulene Gentles home in East Prairie early this morning. The fire, believed to have started from faulty wiring, caused extensive damage to the Tyler Fitzgibbons home, shown in the background, and to the Roy Watson home.

Mo. education bill

Worst in U.S.?

A law now pending before the state legislature which would allow collective bargaining between teacher associations and school boards could be disastrous for Missouri education, Educational Consultant Jerry Hart told 400 school board members and superintendents Thursday night.

The group held their annual meeting last night at the high school cafetorium. Hart is a widely known educational consultant associated with the Educational Services Bureau of Washington, D. C.

"On the surface," Hart said, "it's the worst law I have seen in this country."

The language in the law calling for binding arbitration of unresolved disputes is foreign to education, Hart said. Education is moving into a situation that could be financially devistating, he added, not in terms of pay, but in terms of the cost of resolving disputes.

Under collective bargaining, Hart said, the negotiators find themselves representing units, but not the system. The board of education finds itself representing the students and the teachers association representing teachers.

Jerry Hart

There is a serious difference between teachers and teachers associations, Hart said. Teachers are not negotiating, the associations are. Studies have shown, he said, that most teachers are not even aware of the proposals made in their behalf.

One of the most used and abused phrases spoken during collective bargaining is "good faith," Hart said. For the school board to bargain in good faith it owes the teachers association a response and reason. A rejection of a salary demand is a response, he said, but you must also tell them why you rejected the demand.

Hart said the board must expect strikes by teachers if the proposed law is passed. But the quality of education will not greatly suffer if boards don't give in to the pressure, Hart contended.

Hart said it is far worse to cater to demands not in the best interest of education, than to stand against the pressure and animosity of the teachers.

Hart reminded the board that the only people they will hear from are the vocal "anti's." People don't pick up the telephone to call and say they think someone is doing a fine job, he said.

Mrs. Manning woman of year

Mrs. Warren Manning was named Woman of the Year Thursday night at the 14th annual Woman of the Year Banquet, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Sikeston at Ramada Inn.

Mrs. Manning, who lives at 600 Holly Hill Drive, was named for her outstanding contributions to the community.

She has been an active member of the following organizations: Presbyterian Church, Girl Scouts, Day Care Center, Coalesce Club, Sikeston's President's Council, Parent- Teachers Association, Sikeston Regional Diagnostic Clinic, 4-H club work and Young Couples Club.

Also, she helped found the Child Development Center, a day care facility operating 12 months of the year for pre-school children of low-income parents.

At the Child Development Center, she has been a member of the executive board, treasurer, director of volunteers, advisor to the center's parent committee, classroom volunteer for two years and special eudcation advisor. As special education advisor, she donates her salary to the center.

From 1958 to 1961, she was in charge of special education in the Sikeston public schools. She has been an active participant in political campaigns for many years.

In 1972 she received the B & PW Woman of Achievement Award. She is currently serving her second term as member of the board of directors of Cotton Boll Girl Scout Council. She has been a Brownie Scout Leader, assistant Girl Scout leader and scout troop organizer for three years.

She organized the glass recycling program in Sikeston and promoted and obtained safety traffic control for her neighborhood.

Before the Woman of the Year was named, Miss Addie Mae Jones received recognition for selling the most tickets to the banquet.

Miss Gayle Thornton, of Memphis, Tenn., the former "Maid of Cotton", told about 200 persons who attended the banquet that 31 million women are now participating in the labor force and many of these are taking the less sought after jobs that used to be reserved for men.

Today women make $5,593, compared to $9,399 for men in comparable jobs.

Miss Thornton said that women are coming out of the homes and joining the labor forces to fulfill themselves intellectually and to grow as an employe and person.

There are three basic categories of women in the working force, Miss Thornton said. The bachelorette, who wants to fulfill her educational skills is one type. "The wife may go to work to express her education, her creativity or to supplement her husband's salary," she added. The third category is the woman whose family has grown up and who now has time on her hands.

Former women of the year attending the banquet were Mrs. William Corrigan, 1970, Mrs. Dorothy Powell, 1969, Mrs. Franklin Struwe, 1966, Miss Electa O'Hara, 1961, and Mrs. Joe McCord, 1960.

Entertainment for the banquet was provided by the Sikeston High School Modern Chorale under the direction of Gordon Beaver. Miss Jenny Cauthorn provided piano dinner music.

Fire destroys home, damages 2 others

EAST PRAIRIE — One home was destroyed and two others heavily damaged in an early morning fire today.

A nine- room, two- story frame home, owned by Mrs. Eulene Gentles, at 106 N. Center St. was completely destroyed by the fire, believed to have started from faulty wiring on the back porch. The fire broke out shortly after 3 a.m.

Mrs. Gentles, her three daughters, a niece and nephew were awakened by barking of the family dogs which later were burned to death in the fire. A few articles of clothing, two chairs and a coffee table were the only things salavaged.

Two other houses, one occupied by the Tyler Fitzgibbons family at 104 N. Center St. and the home of Roy Watson, 108 N. Center St., ignited from the Gentles home fire and were extensively damaged. Both families managed to remove their furnishings from the homes which are now unlivable.

Charleston Fire Department was called to assist the East Prairie department.

Sikeston man questioned for exposure

BENTON — James David Smith, 21, of Sikeston, formerly of Poplar Bluff, is in Scott County jail for investigation of indecent exposure.

Smith reportedly tried to get a 10- year- old girl into his car about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. The girl said he exposed himself to her.

At 6:30 p.m. the same day several girls reported that a man drove by them and tried to get them to get into his car. The man reportedly got out of the car and

5 arrested in Sikeston for drug investigation

Police Thursday afternoon arrested five men on the parking lot of the Speed Queen Laundry at 100 Pine Street, for investigation of drug violations.

Police said the five were Antonio S. Null, 19, of Route Three, being held for investigation of loitering and investigation of possession of controlled substances. Brian Leslie Anderson, 18, of 3121 Themis St. in Cape Girardeau, being held for investigation of loitering, possession of controlled substances and possession of narcotic paraphernalia. Robert Marion Parks, 21, of 112 S. Henderson in Cape Girardeau, is being held for investigation of loitering, possession of controlled substances, and possession of narcotics paraphernalia; Jack Kampher, 19, of Scott City, for investigation of loitering, possession of controlled substances and possession of narcotics paraphernalia; Leslie L. Lindy Jr., 20, of 2528 Marsha Kay Drive in Cape Girardeau, for loitering, investigation of possession of controlled substances and possessing narcotics paraphernalia.

All but Lindy were in city jail this morning awaiting formal filing of charges. Lindy posted bond of $2,500 last night.

Police arrested the five in a crackdown against non-students loitering around the school. Non- students had been warned repeatedly not to gather near the school and when the warning was not heeded, police made the arrests. Police were often forced to sit in the parking lot to make sure the non-students did not stay.

Police said while searching the car owned by Lindy, they found a marijuana pipe and other smoking tools and two bags of marijuana. A marijuana clip was reportedly found on another of the men.

Mayor Hogan is named E. Prairie man of year

EAST PRAIRIE — Man of the Year honors were taken by Mayor Lloyd Hogan Thursday night during the third annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. A joint selection of the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Betterment Committee, Mayor Hogan received his award from Mrs. Ray Melton, chairman of the Community Betterment Committee.

In presenting the award, Mrs. Melton cited Hogan for his dedication to family and community and as a man who is proud of his commitment to God.

The Hogan family moved to East Prairie in 1952 and for several years he operated a store in the Dorena community before moving his business, Hogan's Farm Supply, to its present location in East Prairie. For the past four years, he has served as mayor and dedicated many hours toward major improvements in the city.

He was instrumental in bringing about adoption of the city manager form of government; he actively campaigned for bond issues for water and sewer improvements; and he helped develop the city's 10- year comprehensive plan.

He was acknowledged as a man dedicated to the idea of making things happen; one who wants the best of everything available for the people of his town; and one who knows how to get others involved. A plaque, which read in part, "Lloyd Hogan, in recognition of more than 21 years of dedicated service and personal sacrifice of his time and energy with little or no "compensation," was presented.

Percy Clippard, Dexter's Man of the Year for 1969 and 1972, spoke to the group of about 65 persons on how to attract and hold industry.

Clippard stressed the necessity of having an active Chamber of Commerce, one which would commit itself to the "law of readiness" by being prepared to "sell" its community to prospective industry. He emphasized that it is a must to have a community profile on file with the Commercial and Industrial Development Council in Jefferson City and the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission and Bootheel Economic Development Council in Malden.

Former Men of the Year, Hunt Wellborn and Jack Emory were introduced by James Barnhill, co- chairman of Community Betterment Committee.

Accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce were listed by president Jack Emory. At present, the chamber has 51 active members. Emory also commended Mrs. Melton and Barnhill for the outstanding job they have done in community betterment, especially for the involvement of the youth of the community.

Barney Webster, William Nall and Randall Shurtz were elected to the board of directors of the chamber, replacing Bill Winchester, Emory and Hogan.

Ray Melton, superintendent of the R-2 school district, served as master of ceremonies. Entertainment for the event was presented by soloist Buck Cantwell, accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Bird, and by pianist Alan Mickel.

THE VALUE
OF WORDS

"What's in a word?" asked Shakespeare. Dollar bills, that's what; at least to novelist Harold Robbins. The world's most successful author, Robbins has just been advanced a cool (or should we say "hot") $2 million for his next novel, "Memories of Another Day." And the book hasn't even been set in type, much less printed.

Robbins last book "The Betsey," sold 4,000,000 copies in the first month of publication. His biggest money maker, "The Carpetbaggers," has been earning him half a million dollars a year, every year.

What with so many words available, it would seem that almost anyone should be able to make a great living for himself. After all, the dictionary is full of them! All you have to do is put them down in the right order, and presto! You are rich. At least, that is the way it is working for Harold Robbins, who is paid better than $40.00 a word -- and that includes the one, two and three letter ones.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — One of the most expensive tickets in Addis Ababa buys you a bath. Romance is extra.

A short bugle blast from Emperor Haile Selassie's palace is a string of 144 red brick cubicles with plastic domes — the new Filwoha baths. Empress Taitu stopped to soak her feet at these hillside springs nearly 100 years ago and thus laid the foundations of Addis Ababa.

Ethiopians flock to the baths. Tourists grimy from eastern Africa's wild game parks shouldn't miss them. But a visitor looking for more exotic bathing pleasures than just getting clean may be disappointed.

The new Filwoha baths answer the coed Finnish sauna and the New York steam-and-sex parlor mostly by ignoring the question.

The architecture can't compare with the classical pillars of the great English spa at Bath but the formula at Filwoha is the same — volcanic heat plus mineral water equals health. A sign proclaims the waters effective against stains, acne and wrinkles. Or as an attendant told one wrinkled, stained client, "If you believe in something, you'll be cured."

Five Ethiopian dollars — about $2.50 buys a bar of English soap and three large towels. A guard in a militarystyle uniform checks your ticket, which looks more like a supermarket receipt than a ticket to adventure.

You get the brief attention of a bored female in a blue smock, who points you toward a two-room suite and goes back to reading the newspaper. A stony-faced, barefoot male attendant turns on the water and vanishes. Not a word has been spoken, and since it is noon and with-it Ethiopians bathe at night, you are the only customer in the place.

You've paid your way into what looks like an oversized, six-sided American bathroom, including a fashionable low-profile toilet. The water filling the green-tile tub comes in two temperatures — hot and unbearable. An adjoining room contains a plastic reclining chair, table and a sexy paperback — in unreadable Amharic-language script.

This is first class at Filwoha, costing more than a movie and nearly as much as bacon and eggs at a luxury hotel. For 1.50 Ethiopian dollars — about 75 U.S. cents, fourth-class patrons get showers.

You sweat it out until the heat and Addis Ababa's 8,080 foot altitude combine to set your heart pounding. Now stainless and wrinkle-free, you stagger to the chair. Further effort is impossible for half an hour.

RETURN OF THE SICK AMERICAN STRICKEN WITH VIRUS AMERICANUS, HE'S THE HEALTHIEST OF US ALL

There are those who claim ours is a "sick" society; that our country is sick; our government is sick; that we are sick. Well, maybe they're right. I submit that I'm sick ... and maybe you are, too. I am sick of having policemen ridiculed and called "pigs" while cop killers are hailed as some kind of folk hero.

I am sick of being told that religion is the opiate of the people, but marijuana should be legalized.

I am sick of commentators and columnists canonizing anarchists, revolutionaries and criminal rapists, but condemning law enforcement when such criminals are brought to justice.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of free press, but freedom of the press does not include being able to read the Bible on school grounds.

I am sick of paying more and more taxes to build schools while I see some faculty members encouraging students to either tear them down or burn them.

I am sick of Supreme Court decisions which turn criminals loose on society — while other decisions try to take away my means of protecting my home and family.

I am sick pf pot-smoking entertainers deluging me with their condemnation of my moral standards on late - night television.

I am sick of being told that policemen are mad dogs who should not have guns — but the criminals who use guns to rob, maim and murder should be understood and helped back to society.

I am sick of being told it is wrong to use napalm to end a war overseas — but if it's a Molotov cocktail or a bomb at home, I must understand the provocations.

I am sick of not being able to take my family to a movie unless I want to have them exposed to nudity, homosexuality and the glorification of narcotics.

I am sick of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confrontations, and the other mob temper tantrums of people intellectually incapable of working within the system.

I am sick of hearing the same phrases, the same slick slogans, the cries of people who must chant the same thing like zombies because they haven't capacity for verbalizing thought.

I am sick of those who say I owe them this or that because of the sins of my forefathers — when I have looked down both ends of a gun barrel to defend their rights, their liberties and their families.

I am sick of cynical attitudes toward patriotism. I am sick of politicians with no backbone.

I am sick of permissiveness.

I am sick of the dirty, foul-mouthed, the unwashed.

I am sick of the decline of personal honesty, personal integrity and human sincerity.

Most of all, though, I am sick of being told I'm sick. I'm sick of being told my country is sick — when we have the greatest nation that man has ever brought forth on the face of the earth. Fully fifty per cent of the people on earth would willingly trade places with the most deprived, the most underprivileged among us.

Yes, I may be sick, but I am only sick, I can get well. I can also help my society to get well — and help my country to get well.

Take note, all of you ... you will not find me throwing a rock or a bomb; you will not find me under a placard; you will not see me take to the streets; you will not find me ranting to wild-eyed mobs.

But you will find me at work, paying taxes, serving in the community where I live. You will also find me expressing my anger and indigation to elected officials.

You will find me speaking out in support of those officials, institutions and personalities who contribute to the elevation of society and not its destruction. You will find me contributing my time, money and personal influence to helping churches, hospitals, charities and other establishments which have shown the true spirit of this country's determination to ease pain, suffering, eliminate hunger and generate brotherhood.

But, most of all, you'll find me at the polling place. There — if you listen — you can hear the thunder of the common man. There, all of us can cast our vote - for an America where people can walk the streets without fear.

What type of vacuum cleaner do you prefer, the tank type or an upright?

Actually, the choice depends on the type of furnishings in a home. If you have many square feet of carpeting and no hard surface floor, the upright, which combines agitation and suction to remove dirt should be considered. But, if you have bare floors, plus a lot of dusting as well as carpets, the tank type with tool attachments might be the best choice. There is a combination model that features a powered nozzle similar to the upright, that also has an assortment of the above- the floor attachments. It's a good idea to look at all three types and evaluate the features offered in view of the cleaning you have to do.

What's the best way to judge suction of a vacuum cleaner?

The best material for testing a cleaner's efficiency is a granular material like sand or salt. After the cleaner is run over it, check below the rug pile to see if it has been picked up, not pushed down. Picking up thread, fine powder, or a heavy object is not a meaningful test for a cleaner.

Do you think disposable bags for vacuum cleaners are worth the cost?

Check the size of the bag and cost of replacing bags before you buy. The larger the capacity the less frequently you'll have to change it. The disposable bag, inside the cloth bag offers a second layer of protection for the motor from dust.

What makes a vacuum cleaner hard to push on some carpets?

Perhaps the nozzle needs adjusting. It should ride just above the carpet pile. Too low an adjustment will make the cleaner hard to push and cause accelerated wear on the rug. Too high an adjustment will make it roll easier but may not give the rug a deep cleaning.

A MAN OF CONVICTION

A news release from Kalmath Falls, Oregon, recounts how the sheriff of Klamath County has proven himself to be a man of conviction. When the state sent him new cars from a state purchasing agent, he refused them on the grounds that local automobile dealers should have the business. In a letter to the County Commissioners, he said, "I feel that local taxpaying merchants could have provided these vehicles!" The Commissioners had bought the cars through a state agency, because they were available at a lower price. Naturally, the price of a car purchased from a state purchasing agency would be lower than from a private dealer. Private car dealers pay taxes. State purchasing agencies do not. The same principle applies in everything from tax-exempt federal electric power to governmental printed envelopes.

In noting the incident, a local Oregon editor asked, "Just how far are the citizens of this state going to go in allowing state agencies to compete with local taxpaying private businesses?" A lot of people in a lot of states could well ask themselves this same question.

LAW ENFORCEMENT
OFFICERS' BILL OF
RIGHTS

The Supreme Court has recently shown flashes of common sense in dealing with the "rights" of criminals, but a long road must still be traveled before balance is restored in the courts. Meanwhile law enforcement officers continue to suffer from the special privileges accorded to lawbreakers.

In an attempt to alleviate this problem, a group of constructive Congressmen has introduced H.R. 4599, guaranteeing civil rights to all state and local law enforcement officers. The bill, an amendment to the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, is entitled "Law Enforcement Officers' Bill of Rights." This legislation would provide a system for handling the grievances of law enforcement officers as well as statutory protection for their constitutional rights.

Congressman Lawrence Hogan of Maryland, a co-sponsor of the bill, points out the need for this legislation: "The Courts are being ever more generous and meticulous in granting to accused criminals every right, protection, safeguard and benefit that can possibly be imagined... our courts have hamstrung our law enforcement officers with reel upon reel of red tape...They find themselves targets for every conceivable kind of abuse, physical as well as verbal, and yet, in most cases, they have been denied any protection or recourse."

If something is not done to help our law enforcement officers, said Congressman Hogan, respect for the law "will continue to deteriorate until we are living in a jungle of unchecked predators." Law enforcement officers protect the innocent against those who would harm them. These dedicated public servants deserve our gratitude and our help. HLH

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON-- Soon some surgeon may have to do a "telephone- ectomy" on economic czar Prof. John Dunlop, President Nixon's one-man, troubleshooting band on the labor- pay- price inflation front. When he's not on an airplane shuttle, he's up in the air on the phone with some strategically placed chap who could help dampen prices or ease some union's wage demands.

Almost singlehandedly, the harassed scholar from Harvard is attempting to prove that the voluntary Phase Three can work--- and that it would be disastrous to return to the tough Phase Two of the old wage- price freeze.

For a vivid example: just the other day he learned that leaders of some 200,000 civil service employes were preparing to take a huge bite out of the "Big Apple"--- meaning New York City, to use John Lindsay's gay name for it.

No simple complex regional municipal pay skirmish, this. Contracts of every major public employe labor group, including virtually every uniformed- force group and the huge American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees' (AFSCME) District Council 37, expire June 30. Some of these contracts took over two years to renegotiate. Some have set the pace for the rest of the nation. And this means some 10 million non-federal public employes. Some of the strikes, or sickouts, or blue- flu epidemics set the tactics for sanitation, fire fighters and policemen across the land.

New York's civil service wages may not lead all the rest, but they are fought for with techniques which have revolutionized municipal strike tactics everywhere.

And word has already been dispatched that within a few days, early in April, the sanitation men, the firemen and the 24,000- member Patrolmen's Benevolent Assn. want to begin negotiations.

John Dunlop took to the phone. He called one of the big city's centrally placed officials. Dunlop said that the old contracts (which had expired Jan. 1, 1971) had, in effect, just been signed and wages and pension benefits increased heavily.

Therefore, said the incisive Dunlop, there really should be no more money in the new contracts. Or at least very little.

Dunlop, executive director of the Cost of Living Council, has enormous power. He speaks for the council's chairman, Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz, and President Nixon. That's the line of command and strength. This was his message to New York's big army of employes--- and to the civil service forces everywhere, it can be presumed.

And then Dunlop was off on a score of fronts, setting up the new tripartite Food Industry Wage and Salary Committee. Somehow this got very little notice. It should have been emblazoned--- for it not only will advise on wages and salaries and determine how much these affect food prices but it will attempt to avert strikes in a very sensitive arena.

Then Dunlop moved on to the health field, weaving a similar board. This and the food group will be patterned after the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee (CISC) which he still heads--- and which has forced wage increases down from 19 per cent a year to some 6 per cent.

It's a tricky business. But it's your dollar, your food basket, your home costs, rents, the whole bag which are involved.

President Nixon, Shultz and Dunlop know they have to tighten their moorings on Phase Three. The assault is on. From every side. The showdown's coming.

On April 3, the storm clouds will settle over the Productivity Commission session during which Shultz, et al., will face national labor leaders who are determined to get some understanding on what the White House plans to do about increasing food prices.

On April 4, the giants gather-- the 10- man Labor-Management Advisory Committee of the Cost of Living Council. AFL— CIO President George Meany is in a ripping mood. From time to time he does some actual shopping himself-- market cart and all. He wants a freeze on everything across the board. But if not, he wants the right of his unions to go for broke during the coming negotiations.

And he wants more government spending.

Meany made this plain during a conference in his office last Monday (March 26). For 45 minutes he conferred with a delegation of mayors--- from Milwaukee, Detroit, Dayton, Ohio and Boston, among other visitors.

They discussed common action on the Hill in a fight for a public employment program; summertime jobs for youngsters; and the lifting of the President's moratorium on housing starts.

Meany made the point that it was not enough just to get such money bills through Congress with a garden- type majority. Meany wanted bills pushed through with a two-thirds vote to prove to President Nixon that Congress could override his veto when Congress overrode the President's spending lines.

A two- thirds majority would give the liberal- labor-Democratic bloc the power to write its own Phase Three or Phase Four or full freeze stabilization act. And get it through.

Son Dunlop is in there fighting, burning up the wires, needling, cajoling and sometimes threatening.

Dunlop's phone is a formidable weapon. It may yet be able to hold the line for President Nixon.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:
HEW's Anti- Hill Offensive

WASHINGTON-- Top officials of the Health, Education and Welfare Department are preparing to go on the warpath against Congress. A blistering, eight-page speech has been whipped up for them to deliver wherever they can find a forum.

The suggested speech was written by Lewis Helm, picked for assistant secretary, but not yet confirmed. The harsh words he is putting into the mouths of HEW officials may come back to haunt him when he appears before the Senate for confirmation.

Helm would have HEW officials defend President Nixon's welfare cuts and attack Congress. "We are fortunate at this historic juncture," declares the prefabricated speech, "to have a President who is willing to face. . .reality head on.

"Only time will tell if Congress is willing to meet its responsibilities with equal courage. It has not to date. . . It is interesting that, amid all the rhetoric and criticism surrounding the President's budget proposals, few congressional voices are heard proclaiming the need for increases taxes. Interesting--- but not at all unusual.

"That's because, year after year, Congress has ignored the fiscal facts of life. . . .Instead of straightforward calls for a tax increase, the Capitol Hill critics of President Nixon's budget say all the nation's fiscal problems could be met if only we would 'reorder our priorities.' "

The speech charges that "congressmen who court votes by passing legislation and increasing appropriations" have been joined by the "special interest groups" to fight the Nixon budget. Then the speech whacks away at the congressional budget review process, winding up: "Given this failure, it falls upon the President to make the hard decisions. President Nixon has done just that."

Footnote: Helm conceded that his speech was the basic text for HEW speechmakers, but said they were free to make changes to suit their individual circumstances.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

RUSSIA VS. CHINA-- As early as June 12, 1969, we were the first to report that the Kremlin was considering a swift strike at China's nuclear works. The idea was to eliminate China as a nuclear power before she could become a threat to Russia. No less than CIA director Richard Helms confirmed, in August 1969, the possibility of a Soviet attack upon China. Lately, this spectre has been raised again in the press. Our CIA sources tell us, however, that China could now make a Soviet attack quite costly. The Chinese have deployed four dozen hydrogen- headed missiles, some of them in remote mountain silos. All are aimed at Soviet cities, which are now hostages against an attack. The Chinese have also trained legions of guerrillas, who would fan into Siberia and harass Soviet lines in case of warfare between the two countries.

BOOK BURNING— The book burners are loose again in America in numbers not seen since the days of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy. The American Library Association tells us more than 100 attempts have been made to ban controversial books from schools and libraries across the country. Worst areas: Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Texas. Usually, the library vigilantes pretend they're fighting pornography. But the books on their boogey lists are often political rather than pornographic. In Ridgefield, Conn., for example, a pack of ultraconservatives have removed a dozen books from the local high school reading list. Included in this pornographic purge were such books as the biography of Malcolm X and an expose of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

BRASS RING -- Today we award the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry- Go- Round, to Beatrice L. Garrett, the spirit behind the Foster Family Services in the Children's Bureau. More than anyone else, she is responsible for placing 315,000 neglected, unloved children in foster homes across the nation. She is quietly determined to double the number. Those who know her say she has dedicated herself to the cause of foster children with a rare combination of compassion and persistence. They describe her as a quiet but forceful person, with a remarkable ability to bring people together to work for vulnerable youngsters.

GI STORY -- The Pentagon, in its annual appeals for more funds, likes to cite the needs of the lowly GIs. But the Pentagon is paying out a whopping $13.5 billion for civilians, at a generous average annual wage of $13,000. This is charged in a study which will be released next week by the Americans for Democratic Action. The study will claim that one million civilians are working for the Defense Department and that the figure could be cut drastically.

COVER-UP -- The Senate Small Business Committee has charged the Federal Trade Commission with covering up for nine of America's largest conglomerates. An FTC report on the merger activities of these corporate giants -- among them ITT and Litton Industries -- was laundered before it was submitted to the Senate. The committee has now demanded to see the laundered material.

Retiring servants

In recognition of their combined half- century-plus service to New Madrid County, retiring employes Mrs. Evelyn P. Price of Morehouse and Earl Washburn of New Madrid Thursday were presented gifts by the courthouse staff. Mrs. Price has been employed for 29 years as clerk in the county assessor's office and Washburn has been county highway engineer for 23 years.

1 Killed, 2 hurt in accidents

One person was killed and two injured in traffic accidents Thursday in the Bootheel area.

Judy Kay Miller, 29, of Kennett died early Thursday when her car smashed into a tractor- trailer rig in the city limits of Kennett on Highway 25. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Dunklin County Memorial Hospital following the 6:30 a.m. crash.

Apparently Mrs. Miller's car, traveling south, crossed the centerline and smashed into the northbound tractor-trailer. The car's left front struck the left gas tank of the tractor trailer and went all the way to the rear of the back axle.

The driver of the tractor trailer was Carl Joe Evans, 45, of Campbell.

The body was taken to McDaniel Funeral Home in Kennett.

An accident a 6:35 p.m. Thursday on Highway 25, four miles north of Dexter, resulted in injury to two Bloomfield teenagers.

Ocie Darlene Heaton, 16, suffered a possible neck injury when her car, traveling south in heavy rain, went over a hill, veered out of control and slid into a deep ditch.

A passenger, Regina Chappell, 17, suffered facial bruises.

They were taken to the Dexter Hospital.

Bison Glee Club will perform at 7 p.m. Sunday at First Baptist Church.

Widely acclaimed glee club to sing at First Baptist

The Bison Glee Club from Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Okla., will sing at First Baptist Church, 1101 N. Main St., 7 p.m. Sunday, bringing all kinds of music for all kinds of musical tastes.

The club of 37 members sings classical, sacred and secular music.

The director is Dr. Warren Angell, widely known over the country for choral festivals and workshops and for the Bison Glee Club, a versatile choral organization which is a vehicle for many of his talents. Through his abilities as choral director and composer and his musical showmanship, student groups for 30 years have won special recognition for the dean and for the university.

The glee club has made nine commercial recordings and has appeared on the Great Choirs of America Voice of Christmas Series broadcast by National Broadcasting Co. and other national television and radio programs.

Twice, the Tunclippers, an entertainment ensemble chosen from the Bison Glee Club and selected by the National Music Council made a tour of USO clubs, missile sites and air and naval installations in Europe and the Far East.

Recently a musical salute was presented by outstanding present and former students in recognition of Dr. Angell's 30th anniversary as dean of the College of Fine Arts at OBU. He was presented a Distinguished Service Citation by the university and a plaque by Lions International for distinguishedservice.

In many ways the stories of Dr. Angell, the Bison Glee Club and Oklahoma Baptist University are synonymous. The Bison Glee Club was started for a group of students who wanted to get together and sing — a wholesome outlet and an educational one for musically- inclined students, and a fascinating pasttime as well as an opportunity for choral and composition development for the energetic young dean.

In turn, it became one of the major avenues for interpreting Oklahoma Baptist University to communities far from home, and for many years it was the only traveling organization representing OBU. Now there are six major choral organizations as well as several instrumental groups all of which do some traveling as well as concertizing at home.

In 1956 the board of trustees named the college the "Warren M. Angell College of Fine Arts" in recognition of his contribution in building the college of fine arts and bringing high standards of scholarship and musicianship to OBU. He has written five books on choral and vocal techniques and has had over 53 compositions published.

He sang top tenor in the Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians and in the Robert Shaw Chorale in 1942-44 while he was working on his doctoral degree at Columbia University Teachers College in New York. His undergraduate work and his master of music degree were completed at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y.

The Bison Glee Club was formed in 1938 when a group of men students asked Dean Angell to organize a glee club. They wanted to sing just for fun. This has been the primary aim of the glee club, a musical organization of the highest standards, with enjoyment as well as musical taste as a guiding rule.

The Bison Glee Club sings for churches, conventions, school and civic organizations and banquets not only in Oklahoma but also on national tours. They sing regularly for the Oklahoma and Southern Baptist Conventions.

National recognition was gained for the first time in 1942 when the group placed second in the regionals of the Fred Waring Glee Club national competition.

Membership in the group is attained through audition. Each member must first be in the Bison Pledge Club for a year of training and learning music. Daily rehearsals give the club an opportunity to prepare a repertoire of 50 to 60 pieces from a library of nearly 500 choral works.

Since the early beginnings of the Bison Glee Club, a small group of girls has been a part of each program. The Little Sisters, consisting of nine girls, grew into their name. At first, each group selected a name, but finally ran the gamut of names until the director and the program announcer could not remember which name was in current use.

The boys started calling the girls their "little sisters". They carried their luggage and looked out for them on trips. The tag came to be their name as a matter of course. They are always an integral part of the Bison Glee Club.

Regular auditions are held for the Little Sisters with current members recommending new ones, or by the girls themselves asking for audition. Competition is stiff and requirements high, with good musicianship, a good ear for music and a good voice among top considerations.

The Fallen Angels is a male quartet founded at the beginning of the Bison Glee Club. Voices were chosen from the Glee Club for their ability to blend, for their love of good harmony and the willingness to sing whenever asked.

They depend on the dean's arrangements for modern harmonies of standard popular songs and novelty numbers and, with his spirited piano accompaniment, they have become a popular part of the glee club entertainment.

Among the songs scheduled to be sung Sunday night are: "Holy Radiant Light", "It's a New World", "Beyond the Blue Horizon", "The Face of Moses", "All the Things You Are" and "Sweet Sweet Spirit", along with many others.

GOD SPEAKS THROUGH CHRIST

God had a communication problem to solve. He wanted His people to know about His feelings and goals for them. To achieve His objective He sent Christ to us.

God reveals Himself to us because He cares for His people. Early in our study of the Old Testament we read about His use of the prophets to communicate with the people.

In the New Testament Christ becomes the living word. Christ's messages to His followers represent God's revelation of Himself for all men.

There are occasions today when we question the sources of our information. This obviously is nothing new. Men have questioned the words of God and Christ for centuries.

The prophets encountered opposition. Each prophet had a major theme that he presented to the people. Many, of course, refused to listen. They didn't want to be upset by any alarming message that might change their current activities.

These introductory verses in John create many problems for Bible readers. The Interpreter's Commentary notes that "from all eternity God has existed with His Word, who is His mind and purpose and the agent of His self-disclosure."

"Finally the Word revealed God's glory by becoming Himself a man of flesh like other men," the Commentary adds. "In the person of Jesus Christ the character of the eternal and invisible God, in all the fullness of His love and truth, has been made known."

Like many of the prophets before Him, Jesus was rejected by some of His own people. Today there are those who reject the words of our church leaders with their messages from God.

There are several themes in today's Scriptures. The Son of God is His heir and agent of creation. The Son is full deity with all of the authority to direct its future.

The Son completed man's redemption. Jesus did what no one else could do in this respect: "He came for testimony, to bear witness to the light, that all might believe through Him."

We like to hear from persons who have witnessed major incidents in our history. Centuries ago the people had the same desire. Thus we read that "John bore witness" to certain events in the life of Christ on earth.

Without newspapers, magazines, radio or television centuries ago, John had to put his message across through his own talks about the countryside and in his writings.

John had a service to perform. He needed to tell the people about Christ, His background and His role in history. Some persons no doubt could not accept Jesus as the son of God. To these individuals, He was a carpenter, a troublemaker, a crazy person with unusual ideas.

Today we tend to probe deeper into the background of our leaders. We demand more information than these persons like to reveal. Thus there is a debate between our leaders and the people on the "right to know" or "freedom of the press" concept.

Actually we know very little about Jesus. And isn't it good that we don't have all of the vital statistics, such as height, weight, color of hair and eyes?

Obviously any words, pictures, or stories fail to do Jesus justice. We must depend on our faith, too.

What can we do about helping to spread the word of Jesus today? One method is through service. A Yale professor recently asked "What is Life?" and answered with these words:

"Let us ask the Great Teacher of all the ages, and hear His answer by word and deed: Life is service. 'Even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister.' "

God spoke through the Creation and the Incarnation. (Based on outlines prepared by the Department of Christian Education, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.)

Baptist college to drop second campus

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)— Trustees of Missouri Baptist College voted last week to separate the school's Hannibal-LaGrange campus from the St. Louis campus.

Board members said they would ask approval for the separation at a Missouri Baptist Convention meeting in Jefferson City April 9-10.

The separation action Thursday followed an announcement last month that the Hannibal campus needed $500,000 within 30 days to continue its operations. Board members from the Hannibal area said the money could be raised if the school were separated from the St. Louis campus and returned to local control.

A board member said Thursday that nearly $86,000 in pledges and cash had been received, with the stipulation that the Baptist-owned junior college in Hannibal be separated from the St. Louis campus.

Sources said the Hannibal campus was expected to revert to its former name, Hannibal-LaGrange College, and that a new administrator would be named for the school. The sources said the Rev. Frank Kellogg, president of Missouri Baptist College, was expected to remain as chief administrator of the St. Louis campus.

'In His Steps' to be shown at Malden church

The film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. and the showing is sponsored in this area by the Kennett section of the Assemblies of God Youth Department.

The motion picture is based on a novel of the same name written about the turn of the century by Charles M. Sheldon, a Topeka, Kan., clergyman. The book reportedly sold more than 30 million copies and has been translated into languages around the world.

The film story follows the experiences of Rachel Paige, an aspiring young actress; Ed Norman, a newspaper publisher: and Pastor Henry Maxwell, the clergyman whose unique concept changed their lives.

The novel was published at a time in American history when vigorous social reforms were underway, especially in industrial communities. The film updates these situations, giving the story a contemporary approach.

The picture will be shown without charge, according to the Rev. D.B. Shaw, host pastor, and will be open to the public.

River seep water threatens streets

NEW MADRID — Seep water, resulting from the swollen Mississippi River, is threatening some city streets and is reported to be in a few basements.

The 500 block of Water Street next to the levee, where a manhole opening has sunk as a result of excessive underground water, is barricaded to all traffic.

The 300 block of Capitol is blocked to truck traffic and the west end of Water Street near Anderson Lumber Co. and the 200 block of Line Street may have to be closed.

Courthouse custodian Leon Johnson reported an automatic pump has been operating around the clock since Monday in the courthouse basement. Johnson said that when a hole two and one-half feet in circumference and three feet deep becomes filled, the pump is activated. The hole fills every five minutes, Johnson said.

An underground gas storage tank at a service station on the south end of Main Street is reportedly being pushed upward out of the ground by the subsurface water.

With a prediction of rain and a further rise predicted in the Mississippi River at Cape Girardeau, the situation will not improve for at least another week.

Weiss dies in crash

CAPE GIRARDEAU— Cape Girardeau's fatality- free record from traffic accidents that ran back to 1971 was broken at 7:46 a.m. Thursday when Louis Albert Weiss, 1030 Perry Ave. was killed in the head- on crash of his car and another vehicle on North Kingshighway at Kurre lane.

Weiss, 59, was a sixth grade teacher at West Lane Elementary School in Jackson.

Driver of the other car involved, Gene Arthur Hodges, 29, of Jackson Route Three, was given out- patient treatment, the hospital reported. He is an employe of Charmin Paper Products Co.

Patrolmen Michael Seib and Charles Storme and Lt. Donald R. Roberts of the Cape Girardeau Police Department and Cape County Coroner George F. Rouse investigated the accident.

Officers said the Hodges car was traveling south on the highway when the driver "supposedly lost control" and the vehicle swerved across the center line of the pavement and struck the Weiss car, which was going north. The pavement was wet at the time.

Weiss was dead on arrival at approximately 8 a.m. at Southeast Missouri Hospital.

Best remembered for his baseball playing ability, Weiss was a standout on the diamond at SeMo State University in 1931- 32 before joining the Capahas Baseball Team in 1933. He was a pitcher, first baseman and catcher for the Capahas before signing a professional contract in 1934 with the Chicago White Sox.

He played baseball in Dallas Triple A where he won 10 games and lost six as a pitcher and later played in Jackson, Miss. In 1938 he joined the professional Belleville Stags Baseball Club, and returned to Cape Girardeau in 1943 to become manager of the Capahas.

He was a graduate of Central High School and SeMo State University

Ann Landers

Without faith, life is one big question mark

Dear Ann Landers: I'll bet you're sick of hearing from people who have explanations for that widow who found a newspaper clipping of a pretty woman in her husband's wallet two weeks after she buried him. Well, my husband was killed in Vietnam. Among his possessions which came to me in a neat bundle was a photograph of a beautiful young Asian girl. I have no idea who she is and I don't care. It might have belonged to a bunkmate for all I know. My husband was a wonderful guy. He loved me and I trusted him. I refuse to spend five minutes wondering why that picture was in his gear.

My sister was with me when I opened the box. She looked horrified when we came across that photograph. I'm sure she thought the worst. I said, "Look, there's an explanation for this. I'll never know what it is but one thing is certain--- it means nothing to me, and I'm going to forget I saw it."

It all boils down to faith. If you have it, you don't need anything else. If you don't have it, your whole life is one big question mark. You are never sure of anything or anybody and you will never know peace.--- One Who Has It

Dear Has It: There is more common sense in your letter than I've seen in any one place in a very long time. Thank you for saying it so simply and convincingly.

Dear Ann Landers: Will keeping my home orderly make my children neurotic? A close friend who majored in psychology says it will. I was raised in a clean house where the rule was, "A place for everything and everything in its place." Mother taught us that when your surroundings are cluttered your mind is cluttered. I know this is true because I am at my calmest and happiest when my home, closets and shelves are in perfect order. In other words, my emotional condition is directly connected to the condition of my home.

My friend insists that when children are reared with so much emphasis on orderliness they are too "programmed." and it can result in a series of hangups which stifles creativity. We would like your views on this.--- Neat And Comfy

Dear N. and C.: Since you were raised with that philosophy I can see why you believe in it, but I have known people whose homes were models of perfection and their minds were not only uncluttered but sterile. My own desk usually looks like a dog's breakfast but I know where everything is and no one had better move a thing, under the threat of death.

Dear Ann Landers: In your answer to "one" on January 9, you said, "In no state in the union is marriage between members of the same sex considered valid." I beg to differ with you. An article in the New York Times, dated January 7, 1972, reported that a marriage license was issued to two men on August 16, 1971, in Minneapolis. On September 3, 1971, they were married by a minister of the United Methodist Church in a private ceremony.

Please retract your statement in the name of accuracy. Your apologies are accepted.--- I'm One, Too

Dear One: Sorry, you haven't kept up with the latest. I suggest that you get current in the name of accuracy. That so- called marriage between those two fellows was deemed null and void. The bride and groom are now in the courts trying to get a reversal. To date, they have been unsuccessful. Your apologies are accepted.

Got those wedding bell blues over costs... guest list... what to wear... and other details? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will help. For a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self- addressed, stamped envelope (16c postage) to Ann Landers, Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

Cline said 12 persons, including four troopers, may be employed in the office within a few months of its opening.

House Bill 539 would increase the total number of troopers to 800 and the Lieutenants from 25 to 30. The two sponsors of the bill are influential members of the House and expect no opposition, Cline said. Blankenship helps SEMS

CAPE GIRARDEAU-- With bats booming and pitching near perfect, Southeast Missouri State University's baseball team will open the MIAA season Saturday with an 8- 0 record.

In the conference opener the Tribe will face Central Missouri State's Mules in a 1 p.m. doubleheader at Capaha Park.

Despite an 8- 0 record, Indian diamond chief Joe Uhls is entering the conference season cautiously. Uhls said he knows little about how the Mules have done so far this season but feels they will be a real tough team to contend with.

He recalled, "Last year they had a good young team and most of them are back along with a couple of very good pitchers."

Southeast Missouri State swept a pair last week from Luther College of Decorah, Iowa, 2- 1 and 4- 0, and the following afternoon dealt a tough Christian Brothers College team two setbacks, 5- 2 and 4- 1.

The Indians kept their record unblemished Wednesday by taking a pair from the University of Illinois--- Chicago, 5- 1, and 8- 7.

When the season started, Uhls was concerned whether his pitching staff, lacking in experience, and his unproven hitters would be able to give the team a winning formula.

His pessimism is slowly being erased as the Indians have shown they can get the hits when they are needed and score the runs necessary to win.

The pitching staff has been nothing short of superb in the early going, as five Indian pitchers turned in seven straight complete games before Puxico sophomore Steve Shelton was forced to give way to the bullpen in the second game Wednesday.

Through the first six games the Indian mound staff had a combined ERA of 1.29.

Ace lefthander Galen McSpadden of Puxico pitched two of the complete games while Steve Elfrank of Festus had two also and Charles Powell of Crystal City one.

Two freshmen also claimed complete game victories in their college debuts.

Sikeston's Bob Blankenship went the distance in one of the CBC games and Jackson's Terry Bazzell went all the way against Chicago.

The Tribe also has an impressive batting figure as through the first six games the Indians had a team average of .281. Power has also been present on the Indian reservation. In the twinbill with Chicago, the Indians had four home runs, doubling the total for the first six games.

Uhls is very pleased with the pitching so far and said, "The hitting hasn't been that bad." Still, he feels it is a bit early to tell how good the season ahead is likely to be.

The veteran coach said of his team's good start, "We were in good shape when the season started. We were able to be outside more this spring than any since I've been here and this has helped us a lot, especially in the games with Centenary and CBC."

Uhls has listed McSpadden as a starter for one of the MIAA games Saturday but is undecided on who will start the other.

Indians sign DS Star

CAPE GIRARDEAU-- A 6- 7, 230- pound Chaffee High School senior, who hits the books as hard as he hits the boards, has decided to play basketball for Southeast Missouri State University, Indians Coach Bob Cradid said today.

Scott Michael Thomas of 129 W. Parker, Chaffee, who averaged 18 rebounds and 23 points a game during the past season, will enter the university in the fall. He plans to major in accounting.

Coached by J.F. Dopp, Thomas started in basketball at Chaffee for three years, was captain of the squad this year, and was named to the Scott- Mississippi Conference all- star team as both a junior and senior.

He has also lettered in football and baseball, has been on the All- Conference baseball team for three consecutive years, and was chosen an All- State punter in 1972.

Thomas has been on the honor roll every semester since he entered the seventh grade, and he has been named to the Sikeston Standard's All- Academic team for three straight years. He was a delegate to Boys State and was chosen for listing in "Outstanding Teenagers of America."

Currently serving as vice president of the Beta Club, he was vice president of the Student Council during the 1971- 72 year and was president of his class during 1970- 71.

1. Nope. He's Don Wand. Won school essay contest with "The Art of Pre-Marital Dancing." Gimmick: 200 mm holder to balance his 100 mm cigarette. 2. No. It's Rah-Rah Mendelson, ex-cheerleader. Gimmick: He's wearing it. Smokes whatever he finds in his pouch. 3. No. He's Moe Mentum, alias "Stone Hands" for dropping passes. Just dropped statue of school mascot. 4. T. Deious, school bore. Gimmick: His voice, off-key contralto. Smokes oval cigarettes (he sat on his soft-pack and liked it). 5. Curley Gilroy. His hair was voted "Most Likely to Recede." Gimmick: Staples toupee on. Also staples his roll-your-owns. 6. Right. He's still his own man. Likes his cigarette honest, no-nonsense, too. Camel Filters. East Prairie stops Devils

EAST PRAIRIE — Coach Jim Orr's EPHS Eagles ended the Chaffee Red Devils win streak at two and stretched their own to two with a 6-4 Scott- Miss conference win here Thursday afternoon. Chaffee is 2-1 in league play and overall after the loss. The Eagles are 1-0 in conference.

Tim Bard out dualed Mike Heeb in the contest with relief help from Steve Secoy, who finished the last two innings.

Chaffee jumped out in front, scoring two runs in the top of the first inning and East Prairie scored a single run in each of the second and fourth innings. Chaffee crossed the plate two more times in the top of the fifth and led 4-2 at this point but the Eagles came roaring back in the bottom half of the inning and scored four big runs to take the lead and the game.

John Richbourg and Heeb hit doubles for the Eagles and Bard cracked a two bagger for the Eagles. Allen Carter had the games only four bagger as the Eagle first baseman drove in three runs in the game. Scott Thomas batted in two runs for the Red Devils.

Hayti wins

HAYTI — Coach Jerry Cecils HHS Indians creamed Leachville, Ark. here Wednesday afternoon to the tune of 13-2.

Bobby Alexander was the winning pitcher for Hayti, allowing only four safties and struckout eight in his four inning stint before being relieved in the top of the fifth by Danny White.

The Indians had to overcome a two run deficit after the half inning as Leachville crossed the plate twice on a two run homer by Bob Brock. Hayti quickly regained the lead in the bottom of the first as they cased home four runs on three hits.

After the first inning the Indians kept padding their lead adding runs in each of the remaining four innings.

SPORTS

SALISBURY, Md. — Brian Gottfried, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., scored a 6-2, 6-1 upset over Illie Nastase, Romania, in the U.S. National Indoor Open Tennis Championships as Nastase deliberately lost points, failed to chase volleys and hit balls at linesman. Nastase was fined $500 and reprimanded by the Independent Players Association.

Orange ball takes beating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Take it from a man who knows—Gaylord Perry—the new orange baseballs are slippery and hard to grip.

The Cleveland pitcher, who has been accused at times of throwing a spit ball, was on the mound Thursday as the gaudy, experimental balls had their coming-out party.

They must have been hard to control, for sure, because 16 runs were scored in a hitter's day that produced an 11-5 exhibition game victory for the Indians over Oakland.

"The pitchers were not able to grip it correctly," said Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, echoing complaints voiced by Perry and Oakland's Jim Hunter.

Kuhn, at the game to watch the use of the fancy balls recommended by A's owner Charles O. Finley, observed Cleveland's George Hendrick hit three of them out of the park.

The baseball czar decided at once that they weren't practical as is.

Finley, who incidentally wasn't on hand to watch the debut of his brainchild, originally felt that a solid orange ball would be better for the batters to see than a white one.

In Thursday's other games, the Cincinnati Reds stopped the Chicago White Sox 5-2; the Kansas City Royals trimmed the Montreal Expos 4-2; the Baltimore Orioles nipped the New York Yankees 3-2; the Atlanta Braves blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0; the Chicago Cubs tripped the San Francisco Giants 9-8 in 12 innings; the New York Mets beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 and the Boston Red Sox turned back the Detroit Tigers 3-2.

Rain canceled four games — Philadelphia-Houston, TexasMinnesota and contests involving split Milwaukee squads with Los Angeles and California.

Johnnys Bench, apparently recovered from lung surgery over the winter, drove in two runs to pace Cincinnati's victory over Chicago. The Reds' most valuable catcher singled across the runs off loser Terry Forster in the fifth inning.

Wayne Simpson, a trade acquisition this past winter from Cincinnati, allowed only five hits in pitching Kansas City over Montreal in a game halted after seven innings because of darkness. Amos Otis struck a home run for the winners.

The Orioles won their game on Don Baylor's leadoff homer in the eighth off Steve Kline. The Yanks had tied the game in the seventh on Felipe Alou's two-run homer.

Gary Gentry pitched seven innings of scoreless ball as Atlanta defeated Pittsburgh. The Braves scored their winning runs in the first inning on three walks off Luke Walker, a fielder's choice and Dave Johnson's single.

Cleo James' two-out single drove home Glenn Beckert with the winning run to give the Cubs their 12-inning triumph over San Francisco. The game took almost 3½ hours to play.

Jon Matlack limited St. Louis to two hits in seven innings and the Mets scored the decisive run on a throwing error to beat the Cardinals.

Designated hitter Orlando Cepeda drove in two runs, one with an eighth-inning double, as Boston rallied for its victory over Detroit.

Cards trim roster

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Left- hander Lance Clemons, 25, was sent Thursday to the Boston Red Sox by the St. Louis Cardinals in completing a trade made earlier this year to acquire right- hander Mike Nagy.

Clemons posted an 8-4 record with the Cards' Tulsa farm team in the American Associaiton last season. He was acquired originally from the Houston Astros along with Scipio Spinks in exchange for Jerry Reuss.

Consummation of the deal with the Red Sox left the Cardinals with 31 players, including 14 pitchers. The Cards must reduce their roster to 25 players by the start of the National League season next week.

The blaze started in the stables area shortly before midnight Thursday and raged for more than three hours into the morning, the dispatcher said.

White Sox AL pick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been so long since the Chicago White Sox won a pennant that they'd probably settle for a half-pennant this year. That's probably what they'll get, too.

Slugger Richie ("Call me Dick") Allen is happy, pitcher Wilbur Wood is hearty and the Oakland A's are not as strong as you might think.

That adds up to a West title for the White Sox in the American League, their first champions of any kind since 1959.

"This is the strongest offensive team in White Sox history," says Manager Chuck Tanner. Only those who saw the 1919 edition with Shoeless Joe Jackson might dispute the statement, but the White Sox do have power to burn for the 1973 baseball season.

Allen, the AL's MVP last year with 37 home runs, 113 runs batted and a .308 batting average, signed a three-year contract in the fancy $675,000 neighborhood this year and showed his gratitude by reporting to spring training camp on time. You knew he was really grateful, because he hadn't done that since his rookie season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Joining the free-swinging first baseman in the lineup this year will be Bill Melton, who's coming back from injury, and Ken Henderson obtained in a trade with the San Francisco Giants. To obtain the slugging Henderson, the White Sox gave up pitcher Tom Bradley in a deal some think may have been lopsided in the Giants' favor. But Tanner doesn't think so. He's planning to get more work out of two 20-game winners, Wilbur Wood and Stan Bahnsen.

The A's are the defending World Champions, but may have dealt themselves out of another West championship with a puzzling, off-season trade that sent leading home run hitter Mike Epstein to Texas for relief pitcher Horacio Pina. Epstein had a personality clash with Manager Dick Williams last year, but the trade made the A's look ridiculous in some quarters.

Although obtained catcher Ray Fosse from Cleveland in a later deal, the A's still lack the proper long-ball clout to be a pennant-winner. Reggie Jackson, now the only palpable home run threat in the lineup, will be troubled by the absence of Epstein. With no big bouncer hitting behind the lefthanded slugger, the opposition can more easily pitch around him.

The A's still have some of the best pitching in the American League with the likes of Jim "Catfish" Hunter Vida Blue, John "Blue Moon" Odom and Ken Holtzman and a brilliant relief corps headed by Rollie Fingers. That's what will make the West interesting to the end.

While the West shapes up as a likely two-team fight, the East is every man for himself. No one in particular has an apparent lock on the crown and it could be an instant replay of last year when four teams went down to the bitter end before Detroit pulled it out.

The Baltimore Orioles might be given a slight edge because of their potential, with the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Tigers involved in the mad scramble.

The Orioles' perennial pennant-winners fell apart last season with every regular having sub-par seasons. It shouldn't happen again this season and besides the Orioles have secured a power hitter to drive in runs for their tough pitching staff-catcher Earl Williams.

The Yankees probably are the most improved team in the east, with the acquisition of outfielder Felipe Alou and third baseman Graig Nettles. With Bobby Murcer coming off his finest slugging year, New York has its most powerful offensive unit since the Mantle-Maris days.

The Red Sox, who took the Tigers down to the final series of the year before wilting in 1972, have a veteran team that might be stronger with the acquisition of Orlando Cepeda. The righthanded slugger will be the designated pinch-hitter in cozy Fenway Park.

With their hitting, good defense and a pitching staff headed by Marty Pattin, the Red Sox figure to finish ahead of the Tigers. Detroit's pitching is suspect, despite the presence of 22-game winner Mickey Lolich. The Tigers, also, appear to have too many players who have seen their better days.

The Cleveland Indians and Milwaukee Brewers figure to hold up the East. Gaylord Perry, a 24-game winner, is one of the few bright spots in the Cleveland picture. But there's some suspicion that the righthander can repeat another year like that at the age of 35.

The Indians gave up too much in trades to be called a contender and might have a tough time, even, keeping ahead of Milwaukee. The Brewers, also, were guilty of trading away too much for too little. They obtained infielder Don Money from the Philadelphia Phillies but at a price that puzzled some savvy baseball folks. Jim Lonborg, the Brewers' top man, was traded away with three other major league pitchers.

In the West, Chicago and Oakland appear to be all alone unless neither plays up to potential. In that case, the California Angels could make it hot in that division.

The Angels, lacking a longball offense last year, brought some power to town with the addition of Frank Robinson. Also coming to the Angels in the deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers was pitcher Bill Singer. He'll join a sparkling staff headed by Nolan Ryan, Clyde Wright and Rudy May.

The Kansas City Royals, Minnesota Twins and Texas Rangers will probably finish in that order to complete the West standings this season.

The Royals have some solid hitting with John Mayberry, Amos Otis, Lou Piniella and Cookie Rojas, but their pitching staff is weak; the Twins' pitching isn't bad with Bert Blyleven the ace, but the rest of the team has too many holes to consider them seriously and the Rangers will finish last with possibly the worst team in baseball.

The two are charged with breaking into Bryant's Jewelry Store in Charleston on March 17 and stealing merchandixe valued at $5,668.

VAN OF LEARNING

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — The Elgin YWCA Action Van, a self-contained camper trailer, has lived up to its name during the year it has been in operation.

Mrs. Vernon Patton, YWCA urban affairs director, said the van has been used for activities ranging from children's cooking classes to a standing-room-only meeting of parents and school faculty.

On Thursdays the van is open for women to sew, knit or type.

Prayer for today

from the Upper Room

Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart. (I Kings 3:9)

PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, help us to know each other better. May we, with hearts full of compassion and understanding, find and follow Thy way which leads to the full realization of Thy kingdom here on earth as it is in heaven. Amen.

What's the law?

The case of the lionized corpse

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Horace operated his affairs with the strength and courage of a lion and, in fact, used the lion as the emblem and symbol for all of his many successful business ventures. Consequently, when Horace the Lion- Hearted ultimately died, his thoughtful widow placed two large stone lions on the family plot which, unfortunately, immediately created a grave situation. The proprietor of the cemetery wanted no lions in his cemetery, dead or alive.

"It's our plot," insisted Horace's widow, "and I can put anything on it I want. Besides, no epitaph could say more about my husband than those statues. And everybody is entitled to a proper memorial."

"Being memorialized is one thing," responded the proprietor of the cemetery, "but being lionized is another. A cemetery is supposed to be a place of peace and quiet. With fierce looking lions on the grounds, instead of a place of rest, the cemetery would be a place of unrest."

The dispute had to be resolved in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order the removal of the stone lions from the cemetery?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that lions are too unusual an ornament for a cemetery. If they were permitted, concluded the judge, there would be no telling what monstrosities others might decide to erect.

New troop in two years

Patrol unit to locate here

A satellite office of the Missouri State Highway Patrol will be opened in Sikeston in mid- October and will probably be expanded into a full headquarters for a new troop within two to three years, it was announced today by State Rep. C.F. Cline.

Oficially the satellite office is being established on a trial basis, but said the Sikeston Democrat there is no question in his mind that it will be developed into a separate troop. The only question is how long it will take. He said it probably will take one to three years.

The satellite headquarters is dependent upon passage of House Bill 539, now pending before the General Assembly. The bill was introduced by Rep. Gene Copeland, Democrat of New Madrid, and Rep. O.L. Wallis, Republican of Poplar Bluff. Cline said easy passage of the bill is expected.

Cline denied the plan to build the satellite headquarters, and eventually to create a new troop with headquarters in Sikeston, was à political concession to Sikeston. He said Col. Sam Smith, patrol superintendent, had originally proposed the plan while E.I. Hockaday was still the patrol commander.

Sikeston recently lost the battle to obtain the new Troop E headquarters for the city. The headquarters will remain in Poplar Bluff.

No plans for a new building have yet been drawn, Cline said. Until a new building can be built, the satellite office will operate out of a State Highway Department building located between East Malone Avenue and Garwood. The patrol currently used one room of the building as a zone office, but will take over the whole building when it moves in.

Cline said once agreement is reached on the bill, it began to move quickly through the House. He said he expects the House to pass the bill next week.

The Senate also is expected to deal with the bill quickly, Cline said. He added he expects no trouble getting Gov. Christopher Bond to sign the measure.

"Tentative plans call for a 24-hour-a-day, fully operational unit that will give the people of Sikeston and the surrounding counties greater accessibility either by telephone or by personal visit to the highway patrol," Cline said.

The exact size of the future troop has not yet been established, Cline said, but radio coverage will extend from Perry County to the Arkansas state line. The new troop can be expected to incorporate that area, Cline said.

"The plan calls for the sattelite headquarters and the personnel assigned to that headquarters to be commanded by a lieutenant who will directly supervise three or four zones of operation," Cline said. Also headquartered at this unit will be an assistant safety officer, assistant motor vehicle inspection officer, assistant commercial motor vehicle enforcement officer and other necessary field personnel.

Woman of year

Fire destroyed the Eulene Gentles home in East Prairie early this morning. The fire, believed to have started from faulty wiring, caused extensive damage to the Tyler Fitzgibbons home, shown in the background, and to the Roy Watson home.

Mo. education bill

Worst in U.S.?

A law now pending before the state legislature which would allow collective bargaining between teacher associations and school boards could be disastrous for Missouri education, Educational Consultant Jerry Hart told 400 school board members and superintendents Thursday night.

The group held their annual meeting last night at the high school cafetorium. Hart is a widely known educational consultant associated with the Educational Services Bureau of Washington, D. C.

"On the surface," Hart said, "it's the worst law I have seen in this country."

The language in the law calling for binding arbitration of unresolved disputes is foreign to education, Hart said. Education is moving into a situation that could be financially devistating, he added, not in terms of pay, but in terms of the cost of resolving disputes.

Under collective bargaining, Hart said, the negotiators find themselves representing units, but not the system. The board of education finds itself representing the students and the teachers association representing teachers.

Jerry Hart

There is a serious difference between teachers and teachers associations, Hart said. Teachers are not negotiating, the associations are. Studies have shown, he said, that most teachers are not even aware of the proposals made in their behalf.

One of the most used and abused phrases spoken during collective bargaining is "good faith," Hart said. For the school board to bargain in good faith it owes the teachers association a response and reason. A rejection of a salary demand is a response, he said, but you must also tell them why you rejected the demand.

Hart said the board must expect strikes by teachers if the proposed law is passed. But the quality of education will not greatly suffer if boards don't give in to the pressure, Hart contended.

Hart said it is far worse to cater to demands not in the best interest of education, than to stand against the pressure and animosity of the teachers.

Hart reminded the board that the only people they will hear from are the vocal "anti's." People don't pick up the telephone to call and say they think someone is doing a fine job, he said.

Fire destroys home, damages 2 others

EAST PRAIRIE — One home was destroyed and two others heavily damaged in an early morning fire today.

A nine- room, two- story frame home, owned by Mrs. Eulene Gentles, at 106 N. Center St. was completely destroyed by the fire, believed to have started from faulty wiring on the back porch. The fire broke out shortly after 3 a.m.

Mrs. Gentles, her three daughters, a niece and nephew were awakened by barking of the family dogs which later were burned to death in the fire. A few articles of clothing, two chairs and a coffee table were the only things salavaged.

Two other houses, one occupied by the Tyler Fitzgibbons family at 104 N. Center St. and the home of Roy Watson, 108 N. Center St., ignited from the Gentles home fire and were extensively damaged. Both families managed to remove their furnishings from the homes which are now unlivable.

Charleston Fire Department was called to assist the East Prairie department.

Sikeston man questioned for exposure

BENTON — James David Smith, 21, of Sikeston, formerly of Poplar Bluff, is in Scott County jail for investigation of indecent exposure.

Smith reportedly tried to get a 10- year- old girl into his car about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. The girl said he exposed himself to her.

At 6:30 p.m. the same day several girls reported that a man drove by them and tried to get them to get into his car. The man reportedly got out of the car and

5 arrested in Sikeston for drug investigation

Police Thursday afternoon arrested five men on the parking lot of the Speed Queen Laundry at 100 Pine Street, for investigation of drug violations.

Police said the five were Antonio S. Null, 19, of Route Three, being held for investigation of loitering and investigation of possession of controlled substances. Brian Leslie Anderson, 18, of 3121 Themis St. in Cape Girardeau, being held for investigation of loitering, possession of controlled substances and possession of narcotic paraphenalia. Robert Marion Parks, 21, of 112 S. Henderson in Cape Girardeau, is being held for investigation of loitering, possession of controlled substances, and possession of narcotics paraphernalia; Jack Kampher, 19, of Scott City, for investigation of loitering, possession of controlled substances and possession of narcotics paraphernalia; Leslie L. Lindy Jr., 20, of 2528 Marsha Kay Drive in Cape Girardeau, for loitering, investigation of possession of controlled substances and possessing narcotics paraphernalia.

All but Lindy were in city jail this morning awaiting formal filing of charges. Lindy posted bond of $2,500 last night.

Police arrested the five in a crackdown against non-students loitering around the school. Non- students had been warned repeatedly not to gather near the school and when the warning was not heeded, police made the arrests. Police were often forced to sit in the parking lot to make sure the non-students did not stay.

Police said while searching the car owned by Lindy, they found a marijuana pipe and other smoking tools and two bags of marijuana. A marijuana clip was reportedly found on another of the men.

Mayor Hogan is named E. Prairie man of year

EAST PRAIRIE — Man of the Year honors were taken by Mayor Lloyd Hogan Thursday night during the third annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. A joint selection of the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Betterment Committee, Mayor Hogan received his award from Mrs. Ray Melton, chairman of the Community Betterment Committee.

In presenting the award, Mrs. Melton cited Hogan for his dedication to family and community and as a man who is proud of his commitment to God.

The Hogan family moved to East Prairie in 1952 and for several years he operated a store in the Dorena community before moving his business, Hogan's Farm Supply, to its present location in East Prairie. For the past four years, he has served as mayor and dedicated many hours toward major improvements in the city.

He was instrumental in bringing about adoption of the city manager form of government; he actively campaigned for bond issues for water and sewer improvements; and he helped develop the city's 10- year comprehensive plan.

He was acknowledged as a man dedicated to the idea of making things happen; one who wants the best of everything available for the people of his town; and one who knows how to get others involved. A plaque, which read in part, "Lloyd Hogan, in recognition of more than 21 years of dedicated service and personal sacrifice of his time and energy with little or no "compensation," was presented.

Percy Clippard, Dexter's Man of the Year for 1969 and 1972, spoke to the group of about 65 persons on how to attract and hold industry.

Clippard stressed the necessity of having an active Chamber of Commerce, one which would commit itself to the "law of readiness" by being prepared to "sell" its community to prospective industry. He emphasized that it is a must to have a community profile on file with the Commercial and Industrial Development Council in Jefferson City and the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission and Bootheel Economic Development Council in Malden.

Former Men of the Year, Hunt Wellborn and Jack Emory were introduced by James Barnhill, co- chairman of Community Betterment Committee.

Accomplishments of the Chamber of Commerce were listed by president Jack Emory. At present, the chamber has 51 active members. Emory also commended Mrs. Melton and Barnhill for the outstanding job they have done in community betterment, especially for the involvement of the youth of the community.

Barney Webster, William Nall and Randall Shurtz were elected to the board of directors of the chamber, replacing Bill Winchester, Emory and Hogan.

Ray Melton, superintendent of the R-2 school district, served as master of ceremonies. Entertainment for the event was presented by soloist Buck Cantwell, accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Bird, and by pianist Alan Mickel.

Mrs. Manning woman of year

Mrs. Warren Manning was named Woman of the Year Thursday night at the 14th annual Woman of the Year Banquet, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Sikeston at Ramada Inn.

Mrs. Manning, who lives at 600 Holly Hill Drive, was named for her outstanding contributions to the community.

She has been an active member of the following organizations: Presbyterian Church, Girl Scouts, Day Care Center, Coalesce Club, Sikeston's President's Council, Parent- Teachers Association, Sikeston Regional Diagnostic Clinic, 4-H club work and Young Couples Club.

Also, she helped found the Child Development Center, a day care facility operating 12 months of the year for pre-school children of low-income parents.

At the Child Development Center, she has been a member of the executive board, treasurer, director of volunteers, advisor to the center's parent committee, classroom volunteer for two years and special eudcation advisor. As special education advisor, she donates her salary to the center.

From 1958 to 1961, she was in charge of special education in the Sikeston public schools. She has been an active participant in political campaigns for many years.

In 1972 she received the B & PW Woman of Achievement Award. She is currently serving her second term as member of the board of directors of Cotton Boll Girl Scout Council. She has been a Brownie Scout Leader, assistant Girl Scout leader and scout troop organizer for three years.

She organized the glass recycling program in Sikeston and promoted and obtained safety traffic control for her neighborhood.

Before the Woman of the Year was named, Miss Addie Mae Jones received recognition for selling the most tickets to the banquet.

Miss Gayle Thornton, of Memphis, Tenn., the former "Maid of Cotton", told about 200 persons who attended the banquet that 31 million women are now participating in the labor force and many of these are taking the less sought after jobs that used to be reserved for men.

Today women make $5,593, compared to $9,399 for men in comparable jobs.

Miss Thornton said that women are coming out of the homes and joining the labor forces to fulfill themselves intellectually and to grow as an employe and person.

There are three basic categories of women in the working force, Miss Thornton said. The bachelorette, who wants to fulfill her educational skills is one type. "The wife may go to work to express her education, her creativity or to supplement her husband's salary," she added. The third category is the woman whose family has grown up and who now has time on her hands.

Former women of the year attending the banquet were Mrs. William Corrigan, 1970, Mrs. Dorothy Powell, 1969, Mrs. Franklin Struwe, 1966, Miss Electa O'Hara, 1961, and Mrs. Joe McCord, 1960.

Entertainment for the banquet was provided by the Sikeston High School Modern Chorale under the direction of Gordon Beaver. Miss Jenny Cauthorn provided piano dinner music.

THE VALUE
OF WORDS

"What's in a word?" asked Shakespeare. Dollar bills, that's what; at least to novelist Harold Robbins. The world's most successful author, Robbins has just been advanced a cool (or should we say "hot") $2 million for his next novel, "Memories of Another Day." And the book hasn't even been set in type, much less printed.

Robbins last book "The Betsey," sold 4,000,000 copies in the first month of publication. His biggest money maker, "The Carpetbaggers," has been earning him half a million dollars a year, every year.

What with so many words available, it would seem that almost anyone should be able to make a great living for himself. After all, the dictionary is full of them! All you have to do is put them down in the right order, and presto! You are rich. At least, that is the way it is working for Harold Robbins, who is paid better than $40.00 a word -- and that includes the one, two and three letter ones.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — One of the most expensive tickets in Addis Ababa buys you a bath. Romance is extra.

A short bugle blast from Emperor Haile Selassie's palace is a string of 144 red brick cubicles with plastic domes — the new Filwoha baths. Empress Taitu stopped to soak her feet at these hillside springs nearly 100 years ago and thus laid the foundations of Addis Ababa.

Ethiopians flock to the baths. Tourists grimy from eastern Africa's wild game parks shouldn't miss them. But a visitor looking for more exotic bathing pleasures than just getting clean may be disappointed.

The new Filwoha baths answer the coed Finnish sauna and the New York steam-and-sex parlor mostly by ignoring the question.

The architecture can't compare with the classical pillars of the great English spa at Bath but the formula at Filwoha is the same — volcanic heat plus mineral water equals health. A sign proclaims the waters effective against stains, acne and wrinkles. Or as an attendant told one wrinkled, stained client, "If you believe in something, you'll be cured."

Five Ethiopian dollars — about $2.50 buys a bar of English soap and three large towels. A guard in a militarystyle uniform checks your ticket, which looks more like a supermarket receipt than a ticket to adventure.

You get the brief attention of a bored female in a blue smock, who points you toward a two-room suite and goes back to reading the newspaper. A stony-faced, barefoot male attendant turns on the water and vanishes. Not a word has been spoken, and since it is noon and with-it Ethiopians bathe at night, you are the only customer in the place.

You've paid your way into what looks like an oversized, six-sided American bathroom, including a fashionable low-profile toilet. The water filling the green-tile tub comes in two temperatures — hot and unbearable. An adjoining room contains a plastic reclining chair, table and a sexy paperback — in unreadable Amharic-language script.

This is first class at Filwoha, costing more than a movie and nearly as much as bacon and eggs at a luxury hotel. For 1.50 Ethiopian dollars — about 75 U.S. cents, fourth-class patrons get showers.

You sweat it out until the heat and Addis Ababa's 8,080 foot altitude combine to set your heart pounding. Now stainless and wrinkle-free, you stagger to the chair. Further effort is impossible for half an hour.

RETURN OF THE SICK AMERICAN STRICKEN WITH VIRUS AMERICANUS, HE'S THE HEALTHIEST OF US ALL

There are those who claim ours is a "sick" society; that our country is sick; our government is sick; that we are sick. Well, maybe they're right. I submit that I'm sick ... and maybe you are, too. I am sick of having policemen ridiculed and called "pigs" while cop killers are hailed as some kind of folk hero.

I am sick of being told that religion is the opiate of the people, but marijuana should be legalized.

I am sick of commentators and columnists canonizing anarchists, revolutionaries and criminal rapists, but condemning law enforcement when such criminals are brought to justice.

I am sick of being told that pornography is the right of free press, but freedom of the press does not include being able to read the Bible on school grounds.

I am sick of paying more and more taxes to build schools while I see some faculty members encouraging students to either tear them down or burn them.

I am sick of Supreme Court decisions which turn criminals loose on society — while other decisions try to take away my means of protecting my home and family.

I am sick pf pot-smoking entertainers deluging me with their condemnation of my moral standards on late - night television.

I am sick of being told that policemen are mad dogs who should not have guns — but the criminals who use guns to rob, maim and murder should be understood and helped back to society.

I am sick of being told it is wrong to use napalm to end a war overseas — but if it's a Molotov cocktail or a bomb at home, I must understand the provocations.

I am sick of not being able to take my family to a movie unless I want to have them exposed to nudity, homosexuality and the glorification of narcotics.

I am sick of riots, marches, protests, demonstrations, confrontations, and the other mob temper tantrums of people intellectually incapable of working within the system.

I am sick of hearing the same phrases, the same slick slogans, the cries of people who must chant the same thing like zombies because they haven't capacity for verbalizing thought.

I am sick of those who say I owe them this or that because of the sins of my forefathers — when I have looked down both ends of a gun barrel to defend their rights, their liberties and their families.

I am sick of cynical attitudes toward patriotism. I am sick of politicians with no backbone.

I am sick of permissiveness.

I am sick of the dirty, foul-mouthed, the unwashed.

I am sick of the decline of personal honesty, personal integrity and human sincerity.

Most of all, though, I am sick of being told I'm sick. I'm sick of being told my country is sick — when we have the greatest nation that man has ever brought forth on the face of the earth. Fully fifty per cent of the people on earth would willingly trade places with the most deprived, the most underprivileged among us.

Yes, I may be sick, but I am only sick, I can get well. I can also help my society to get well — and help my country to get well.

Take note, all of you ... you will not find me throwing a rock or a bomb; you will not find me under a placard; you will not see me take to the streets; you will not find me ranting to wild-eyed mobs.

But you will find me at work, paying taxes, serving in the community where I live. You will also find me expressing my anger and indigation to elected officials.

You will find me speaking out in support of those officials, institutions and personalities who contribute to the elevation of society and not its destruction. You will find me contributing my time, money and personal influence to helping churches, hospitals, charities and other establishments which have shown the true spirit of this country's determination to ease pain, suffering, eliminate hunger and generate brotherhood.

But, most of all, you'll find me at the polling place. There — if you listen — you can hear the thunder of the common man. There, all of us can cast our vote - for an America where people can walk the streets without fear.

What type of vacuum cleaner do you prefer, the tank type or an upright?

Actually, the choice depends on the type of furnishings in a home. If you have many square feet of carpeting and no hard surface floor, the upright, which combines agitation and suction to remove dirt should be considered. But, if you have bare floors, plus a lot of dusting as well as carpets, the tank type with tool attachments might be the best choice. There is a combination model that features a powered nozzle similar to the upright, that also has an assortment of the above- the floor attachments. It's a good idea to look at all three types and evaluate the features offered in view of the cleaning you have to do.

What's the best way to judge suction of a vacuum cleaner?

The best material for testing a cleaner's efficiency is a granular material like sand or salt. After the cleaner is run over it, check below the rug pile to see if it has been picked up, not pushed down. Picking up thread, fine powder, or a heavy object is not a meaningful test for a cleaner.

Do you think disposable bags for vacuum cleaners are worth the cost?

Check the size of the bag and cost of replacing bags before you buy. The larger the capacity the less frequently you'll have to change it. The disposable bag, inside the cloth bag offers a second layer of protection for the motor from dust.

What makes a vacuum cleaner hard to push on some carpets?

Perhaps the nozzle needs adjusting. It should ride just above the carpet pile. Too low an adjustment will make the cleaner hard to push and cause accelerated wear on the rug. Too high an adjustment will make it roll easier but may not give the rug a deep cleaning.

A MAN OF CONVICTION

A news release from Kalmath Falls, Oregon, recounts how the sheriff of Klamath County has proven himself to be a man of conviction. When the state sent him new cars from a state purchasing agent, he refused them on the grounds that local automobile dealers should have the business. In a letter to the County Commissioners, he said, "I feel that local taxpaying merchants could have provided these vehicles!" The Commissioners had bought the cars through a state agency, because they were available at a lower price. Naturally, the price of a car purchased from a state purchasing agency would be lower than from a private dealer. Private car dealers pay taxes. State purchasing agencies do not. The same principle applies in everything from tax-exempt federal electric power to governmental printed envelopes.

In noting the incident, a local Oregon editor asked, "Just how far are the citizens of this state going to go in allowing state agencies to compete with local taxpaying private businesses?" A lot of people in a lot of states could well ask themselves this same question.

LAW ENFORCEMENT
OFFICERS' BILL OF RIGHTS

The Supreme Court has recently shown flashes of common sense in dealing with the "rights" of criminals, but a long road must still be traveled before balance is restored in the courts. Meanwhile law enforcement officers continue to suffer from the special privileges accorded to lawbreakers.

In an attempt to alleviate this problem, a group of constructive Congressmen has introduced H.R. 4599, guaranteeing civil rights to all state and local law enforcement officers. The bill, an amendment to the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, is entitled "Law Enforcement Officers' Bill of Rights." This legislation would provide a system for handling the grievances of law enforcement officers as well as statutory protection for their constitutional rights.

Congressman Lawrence Hogan of Maryland, a co-sponsor of the bill, points out the need for this legislation: "The Courts are being ever more generous and meticulous in granting to accused criminals every right, protection, safeguard and benefit that can possibly be imagined... our courts have hamstrung our law enforcement officers with reel upon reel of red tape...They find themselves targets for every conceivable kind of abuse, physical as well as verbal, and yet, in most cases, they have been denied any protection or recourse."

If something is not done to help our law enforcement officers, said Congressman Hogan, respect for the law "will continue to deteriorate until we are living in a jungle of unchecked predators." Law enforcement officers protect the innocent against those who would harm them. These dedicated public servants deserve our gratitude and our help. HLH

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON-- Soon some surgeon may have to do a "telephone- ectomy" on economic czar Prof. John Dunlop, President Nixon's one-man, troubleshooting band on the labor- pay- price inflation front. When he's not on an airplane shuttle, he's up in the air on the phone with some strategically placed chap who could help dampen prices or ease some union's wage demands.

Almost singlehandedly, the harassed scholar from Harvard is attempting to prove that the voluntary Phase Three can work--- and that it would be disastrous to return to the tough Phase Two of the old wage- price freeze.

For a vivid example: just the other day he learned that leaders of some 200,000 civil service employes were preparing to take a huge bite out of the "Big Apple"--- meaning New York City, to use John Lindsay's gay name for it.

No simple complex regional municipal pay skirmish, this. Contracts of every major public employe labor group, including virtually every uniformed- force group and the huge American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees' (AFSCME) District Council 37, expire June 30. Some of these contracts took over two years to renegotiate. Some have set the pace for the rest of the nation. And this means some 10 million non-federal public employes. Some of the strikes, or sickouts, or blue- flu epidemics set the tactics for sanitation, fire fighters and policemen across the land.

New York's civil service wages may not lead all the rest, but they are fought for with techniques which have revolutionized municipal strike tactics everywhere.

And word has already been dispatched that within a few days, early in April, the sanitation men, the firemen and the 24,000- member Patrolmen's Benevolent Assn. want to begin negotiations.

John Dunlop took to the phone. He called one of the big city's centrally placed officials. Dunlop said that the old contracts (which had expired Jan. 1, 1971) had, in effect, just been signed and wages and pension benefits increased heavily.

Therefore, said the incisive Dunlop, there really should be no more money in the new contracts. Or at least very little.

Dunlop, executive director of the Cost of Living Council, has enormous power. He speaks for the council's chairman, Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz, and President Nixon. That's the line of command and strength. This was his message to New York's big army of employes--- and to the civil service forces everywhere, it can be presumed.

And then Dunlop was off on a score of fronts, setting up the new tripartite Food Industry Wage and Salary Committee. Somehow this got very little notice. It should have been emblazoned--- for it not only will advise on wages and salaries and determine how much these affect food prices but it will attempt to avert strikes in a very sensitive arena.

Then Dunlop moved on to the health field, weaving a similar board. This and the food group will be patterned after the Construction Industry Stabilization Committee (CISC) which he still heads--- and which has forced wage increases down from 19 per cent a year to some 6 per cent.

It's a tricky business. But it's your dollar, your food basket, your home costs, rents, the whole bag which are involved.

President Nixon, Shultz and Dunlop know they have to tighten their moorings on Phase Three. The assault is on. From every side. The showdown's coming.

On April 3, the storm clouds will settle over the Productivity Commission session during which Shultz, et al., will face national labor leaders who are determined to get some understanding on what the White House plans to do about increasing food prices.

On April 4, the giants gather-- the 10- man Labor-Management Advisory Committee of the Cost of Living Council. AFL— CIO President George Meany is in a ripping mood. From time to time he does some actual shopping himself-- market cart and all. He wants a freeze on everything across the board. But if not, he wants the right of his unions to go for broke during the coming negotiations.

And he wants more government spending.

Meany made this plain during a conference in his office last Monday (March 26). For 45 minutes he conferred with a delegation of mayors--- from Milwaukee, Detroit, Dayton, Ohio and Boston, among other visitors.

They discussed common action on the Hill in a fight for a public employment program; summertime jobs for youngsters; and the lifting of the President's moratorium on housing starts.

Meany made the point that it was not enough just to get such money bills through Congress with a garden- type majority. Meany wanted bills pushed through with a two-thirds vote to prove to President Nixon that Congress could override his veto when Congress overrode the President's spending lines.

A two- thirds majority would give the liberal- labor-Democratic bloc the power to write its own Phase Three or Phase Four or full freeze stabilization act. And get it through.

Son Dunlop is in there fighting, burning up the wires, needling, cajoling and sometimes threatening.

Dunlop's phone is a formidable weapon. It may yet be able to hold the line for President Nixon.

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:
HEW's Anti- Hill Offensive

WASHINGTON-- Top officials of the Health, Education and Welfare Department are preparing to go on the warpath against Congress. A blistering, eight-page speech has been whipped up for them to deliver wherever they can find a forum.

The suggested speech was written by Lewis Helm, picked for assistant secretary, but not yet confirmed. The harsh words he is putting into the mouths of HEW officials may come back to haunt him when he appears before the Senate for confirmation.

Helm would have HEW officials defend President Nixon's welfare cuts and attack Congress. "We are fortunate at this historic juncture," declares the prefabricated speech, "to have a President who is willing to face. . .reality head on.

"Only time will tell if Congress is willing to meet its responsibilities with equal courage. It has not to date. . . It is interesting that, amid all the rhetoric and criticism surrounding the President's budget proposals, few congressional voices are heard proclaiming the need for increases taxes. Interesting--- but not at all unusual.

"That's because, year after year, Congress has ignored the fiscal facts of life. . . .Instead of straightforward calls for a tax increase, the Capitol Hill critics of President Nixon's budget say all the nation's fiscal problems could be met if only we would 'reorder our priorities.' "

The speech charges that "congressmen who court votes by passing legislation and increasing appropriations" have been joined by the "special interest groups" to fight the Nixon budget. Then the speech whacks away at the congressional budget review process, winding up: "Given this failure, it falls upon the President to make the hard decisions. President Nixon has done just that."

Footnote: Helm conceded that his speech was the basic text for HEW speechmakers, but said they were free to make changes to suit their individual circumstances.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

RUSSIA VS. CHINA-- As early as June 12, 1969, we were the first to report that the Kremlin was considering a swift strike at China's nuclear works. The idea was to eliminate China as a nuclear power before she could become a threat to Russia. No less than CIA director Richard Helms confirmed, in August 1969, the possibility of a Soviet attack upon China. Lately, this spectre has been raised again in the press. Our CIA sources tell us, however, that China could now make a Soviet attack quite costly. The Chinese have deployed four dozen hydrogen- headed missiles, some of them in remote mountain silos. All are aimed at Soviet cities, which are now hostages against an attack. The Chinese have also trained legions of guerrillas, who would fan into Siberia and harass Soviet lines in case of warfare between the two countries.

BOOK BURNING— The book burners are loose again in America in numbers not seen since the days of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy. The American Library Association tells us more than 100 attempts have been made to ban controversial books from schools and libraries across the country. Worst areas: Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Texas. Usually, the library vigilantes pretend they're fighting pornography. But the books on their boogey lists are often political rather than pornographic. In Ridgefield, Conn., for example, a pack of ultraconservatives have removed a dozen books from the local high school reading list. Included in this pornographic purge were such books as the biography of Malcolm X and an expose of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

BRASS RING -- Today we award the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry- Go- Round, to Beatrice L. Garrett, the spirit behind the Foster Family Services in the Children's Bureau. More than anyone else, she is responsible for placing 315,000 neglected, unloved children in foster homes across the nation. She is quietly determined to double the number. Those who know her say she has dedicated herself to the cause of foster children with a rare combination of compassion and persistence. They describe her as a quiet but forceful person, with a remarkable ability to bring people together to work for vulnerable youngsters.

GI STORY -- The Pentagon, in its annual appeals for more funds, likes to cite the needs of the lowly GIs. But the Pentagon is paying out a whopping $13.5 billion for civilians, at a generous average annual wage of $13,000. This is charged in a study which will be released next week by the Americans for Democratic Action. The study will claim that one million civilians are working for the Defense Department and that the figure could be cut drastically.

COVER-UP -- The Senate Small Business Committee has charged the Federal Trade Commission with covering up for nine of America's largest conglomerates. An FTC report on the merger activities of these corporate giants -- among them ITT and Litton Industries -- was laundered before it was submitted to the Senate. The committee has now demanded to see the laundered material.

Retiring servants

In recognition of their combined half- century-plus service to New Madrid County, retiring employes Mrs. Evelyn P. Price of Morehouse and Earl Washburn of New Madrid Thursday were presented gifts by the courthouse staff. Mrs. Price has been employed for 29 years as clerk in the county assessor's office and Washburn has been county highway engineer for 23 years.

1 Killed, 2 hurt in accidents

One person was killed and two injured in traffic accidents Thursday in the Bootheel area.

Judy Kay Miller, 29, of Kennett died early Thursday when her car smashed into a tractor- trailer rig in the city limits of Kennett on Highway 25. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Dunklin County Memorial Hospital following the 6:30 a.m. crash.

Apparently Mrs. Miller's car, traveling south, crossed the centerline and smashed into the northbound tractor-trailer. The car's left front struck the left gas tank of the tractor trailer and went all the way to the rear of the back axle.

The driver of the tractor trailer was Carl Joe Evans, 45, of Campbell.

The body was taken to McDaniel Funeral Home in Kennett.

An accident a 6:35 p.m. Thursday on Highway 25, four miles north of Dexter, resulted in injury to two Bloomfield teenagers.

Ocie Darlene Heaton, 16, suffered a possible neck injury when her car, traveling south in heavy rain, went over a hill, veered out of control and slid into a deep ditch.

A passenger, Regina Chappell, 17, suffered facial bruises.

They were taken to the Dexter Hospital.

Bison Glee Club will perform at 7 p.m. Sunday at First Baptist Church.

Widely acclaimed glee club to sing at First Baptist

The Bison Glee Club from Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Okla., will sing at First Baptist Church, 1101 N. Main St., 7 p.m. Sunday, bringing all kinds of music for all kinds of musical tastes.

The club of 37 members sings classical, sacred and secular music.

The director is Dr. Warren Angell, widely known over the country for choral festivals and workshops and for the Bison Glee Club, a versatile choral organization which is a vehicle for many of his talents. Through his abilities as choral director and composer and his musical showmanship, student groups for 30 years have won special recognition for the dean and for the university.

The glee club has made nine commercial recordings and has appeared on the Great Choirs of America Voice of Christmas Series broadcast by National Broadcasting Co. and other national television and radio programs.

Twice, the Tunclippers, an entertainment ensemble chosen from the Bison Glee Club and selected by the National Music Council made a tour of USO clubs, missile sites and air and naval installations in Europe and the Far East.

Recently a musical salute was presented by outstanding present and former students in recognition of Dr. Angell's 30th anniversary as dean of the College of Fine Arts at OBU. He was presented a Distinguished Service Citation by the university and a plaque by Lions International for distinguishedservice.

In many ways the stories of Dr. Angell, the Bison Glee Club and Oklahoma Baptist University are synonymous. The Bison Glee Club was started for a group of students who wanted to get together and sing — a wholesome outlet and an educational one for musically- inclined students, and a fascinating pasttime as well as an opportunity for choral and composition development for the energetic young dean.

In turn, it became one of the major avenues for interpreting Oklahoma Baptist University to communities far from home, and for many years it was the only traveling organization representing OBU. Now there are six major choral organizations as well as several instrumental groups all of which do some traveling as well as concertizing at home.

In 1956 the board of trustees named the college the "Warren M. Angell College of Fine Arts" in recognition of his contribution in building the college of fine arts and bringing high standards of scholarship and musicianship to OBU. He has written five books on choral and vocal techniques and has had over 53 compositions published.

He sang top tenor in the Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians and in the Robert Shaw Chorale in 1942-44 while he was working on his doctoral degree at Columbia University Teachers College in New York. His undergraduate work and his master of music degree were completed at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y.

The Bison Glee Club was formed in 1938 when a group of men students asked Dean Angell to organize a glee club. They wanted to sing just for fun. This has been the primary aim of the glee club, a musical organization of the highest standards, with enjoyment as well as musical taste as a guiding rule.

The Bison Glee Club sings for churches, conventions, school and civic organizations and banquets not only in Oklahoma but also on national tours. They sing regularly for the Oklahoma and Southern Baptist Conventions.

National recognition was gained for the first time in 1942 when the group placed second in the regionals of the Fred Waring Glee Club national competition.

Membership in the group is attained through audition. Each member must first be in the Bison Pledge Club for a year of training and learning music. Daily rehearsals give the club an opportunity to prepare a repertoire of 50 to 60 pieces from a library of nearly 500 choral works.

Since the early beginnings of the Bison Glee Club, a small group of girls has been a part of each program. The Little Sisters, consisting of nine girls, grew into their name. At first, each group selected a name, but finally ran the gamut of names until the director and the program announcer could not remember which name was in current use.

The boys started calling the girls their "little sisters". They carried their luggage and looked out for them on trips. The tag came to be their name as a matter of course. They are always an integral part of the Bison Glee Club.

Regular auditions are held for the Little Sisters with current members recommending new ones, or by the girls themselves asking for audition. Competition is stiff and requirements high, with good musicianship, a good ear for music and a good voice among top considerations.

The Fallen Angels is a male quartet founded at the beginning of the Bison Glee Club. Voices were chosen from the Glee Club for their ability to blend, for their love of good harmony and the willingness to sing whenever asked.

They depend on the dean's arrangements for modern harmonies of standard popular songs and novelty numbers and, with his spirited piano accompaniment, they have become a popular part of the glee club entertainment.

Among the songs scheduled to be sung Sunday night are: "Holy Radiant Light", "It's a New World", "Beyond the Blue Horizon", "The Face of Moses", "All the Things You Are" and "Sweet Sweet Spirit", along with many others.

GOD SPEAKS THROUGH CHRIST

God had a communication problem to solve. He wanted His people to know about His feelings and goals for them. To achieve His objective He sent Christ to us.

God reveals Himself to us because He cares for His people. Early in our study of the Old Testament we read about His use of the prophets to communicate with the people.

In the New Testament Christ becomes the living word. Christ's messages to His followers represent God's revelation of Himself for all men.

There are occasions today when we question the sources of our information. This obviously is nothing new. Men have questioned the words of God and Christ for centuries.

The prophets encountered opposition. Each prophet had a major theme that he presented to the people. Many, of course, refused to listen. They didn't want to be upset by any alarming message that might change their current activities.

These introductory verses in John create many problems for Bible readers. The Interpreter's Commentary notes that "from all eternity God has existed with His Word, who is His mind and purpose and the agent of His self-disclosure."

"Finally the Word revealed God's glory by becoming Himself a man of flesh like other men," the Commentary adds. "In the person of Jesus Christ the character of the eternal and invisible God, in all the fullness of His love and truth, has been made known."

Like many of the prophets before Him, Jesus was rejected by some of His own people. Today there are those who reject the words of our church leaders with their messages from God.

There are several themes in today's Scriptures. The Son of God is His heir and agent of creation. The Son is full deity with all of the authority to direct its future.

The Son completed man's redemption. Jesus did what no one else could do in this respect: "He came for testimony, to bear witness to the light, that all might believe through Him."

We like to hear from persons who have witnessed major incidents in our history. Centuries ago the people had the same desire. Thus we read that "John bore witness" to certain events in the life of Christ on earth.

Without newspapers, magazines, radio or television centuries ago, John had to put his message across through his own talks about the countryside and in his writings.

John had a service to perform. He needed to tell the people about Christ, His background and His role in history. Some persons no doubt could not accept Jesus as the son of God. To these individuals, He was a carpenter, a troublemaker, a crazy person with unusual ideas.

Today we tend to probe deeper into the background of our leaders. We demand more information than these persons like to reveal. Thus there is a debate between our leaders and the people on the "right to know" or "freedom of the press" concept.

Actually we know very little about Jesus. And isn't it good that we don't have all of the vital statistics, such as height, weight, color of hair and eyes?

Obviously any words, pictures, or stories fail to do Jesus justice. We must depend on our faith, too.

What can we do about helping to spread the word of Jesus today? One method is through service. A Yale professor recently asked "What is Life?" and answered with these words:

"Let us ask the Great Teacher of all the ages, and hear His answer by word and deed: Life is service. 'Even as the Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister.' "

God spoke through the Creation and the Incarnation.

Baptist college to drop second campus

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)— Trustees of Missouri Baptist College voted last week to separate the school's Hannibal-LaGrange campus from the St. Louis campus.

Board members said they would ask approval for the separation at a Missouri Baptist Convention meeting in Jefferson City April 9-10.

The separation action Thursday followed an announcement last month that the Hannibal campus needed $500,000 within 30 days to continue its operations. Board members from the Hannibal area said the money could be raised if the school were separated from the St. Louis campus and returned to local control.

A board member said Thursday that nearly $86,000 in pledges and cash had been received, with the stipulation that the Baptist-owned junior college in Hannibal be separated from the St. Louis campus.

Sources said the Hannibal campus was expected to revert to its former name, Hannibal-LaGrange College, and that a new administrator would be named for the school. The sources said the Rev. Frank Kellogg, president of Missouri Baptist College, was expected to remain as chief administrator of the St. Louis campus.

'In His Steps' to be shown at Malden church

The film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. and the showing is sponsored in this area by the Kennett section of the Assemblies of God Youth Department.

The motion picture is based on a novel of the same name written about the turn of the century by Charles M. Sheldon, a Topeka, Kan., clergyman. The book reportedly sold more than 30 million copies and has been translated into languages around the world.

The film story follows the experiences of Rachel Paige, an aspiring young actress; Ed Norman, a newspaper publisher: and Pastor Henry Maxwell, the clergyman whose unique concept changed their lives.

The novel was published at a time in American history when vigorous social reforms were underway, especially in industrial communities. The film updates these situations, giving the story a contemporary approach.

The picture will be shown without charge, according to the Rev. D.B. Shaw, host pastor, and will be open to the public.

River seep water threatens streets

NEW MADRID — Seep water, resulting from the swollen Mississippi River, is threatening some city streets and is reported to be in a few basements.

The 500 block of Water Street next to the levee, where a manhole opening has sunk as a result of excessive underground water, is barricaded to all traffic.

The 300 block of Capitol is blocked to truck traffic and the west end of Water Street near Anderson Lumber Co. and the 200 block of Line Street may have to be closed.

Courthouse custodian Leon Johnson reported an automatic pump has been operating around the clock since Monday in the courthouse basement. Johnson said that when a hole two and one-half feet in circumference and three feet deep becomes filled, the pump is activated. The hole fills every five minutes, Johnson said.

An underground gas storage tank at a service station on the south end of Main Street is reportedly being pushed upward out of the ground by the subsurface water.

With a prediction of rain and a further rise predicted in the Mississippi River at Cape Girardeau, the situation will not improve for at least another week.

Weiss dies in crash

CAPE GIRARDEAU— Cape Girardeau's fatality- free record from traffic accidents that ran back to 1971 was broken at 7:46 a.m. Thursday when Louis Albert Weiss, 1030 Perry Ave. was killed in the head- on crash of his car and another vehicle on North Kingshighway at Kurre lane.

Weiss, 59, was a sixth grade teacher at West Lane Elementary School in Jackson.

Driver of the other car involved, Gene Arthur Hodges, 29, of Jackson Route Three, was given out- patient treatment, the hospital reported. He is an employe of Charmin Paper Products Co.

Patrolmen Michael Seib and Charles Storme and Lt. Donald R. Roberts of the Cape Girardeau Police Department and Cape County Coroner George F. Rouse investigated the accident.

Officers said the Hodges car was traveling south on the highway when the driver "supposedly lost control" and the vehicle swerved across the center line of the pavement and struck the Weiss car, which was going north. The pavement was wet at the time.

Weiss was dead on arrival at approximately 8 a.m. at Southeast Missouri Hospital.

Best remembered for his baseball playing ability, Weiss was a standout on the diamond at SeMo State University in 1931- 32 before joining the Capahas Baseball Team in 1933. He was a pitcher, first baseman and catcher for the Capahas before signing a professional contract in 1934 with the Chicago White Sox.

He played baseball in Dallas Triple A where he won 10 games and lost six as a pitcher and later played in Jackson, Miss. In 1938 he joined the professional Belleville Stags Baseball Club, and returned to Cape Girardeau in 1943 to become manager of the Capahas.

He was a graduate of Central High School and SeMo State University

Ann Landers

Without faith, life is one big question mark

Dear Ann Landers: I'll bet you're sick of hearing from people who have explanations for that widow who found a newspaper clipping of a pretty woman in her husband's wallet two weeks after she buried him. Well, my husband was killed in Vietnam. Among his possessions which came to me in a neat bundle was a photograph of a beautiful young Asian girl. I have no idea who she is and I don't care. It might have belonged to a bunkmate for all I know. My husband was a wonderful guy. He loved me and I trusted him. I refuse to spend five minutes wondering why that picture was in his gear.

My sister was with me when I opened the box. She looked horrified when we came across that photograph. I'm sure she thought the worst. I said, "Look, there's an explanation for this. I'll never know what it is but one thing is certain--- it means nothing to me, and I'm going to forget I saw it."

It all boils down to faith. If you have it, you don't need anything else. If you don't have it, your whole life is one big question mark. You are never sure of anything or anybody and you will never know peace.--- One Who Has It

Dear Has It: There is more common sense in your letter than I've seen in any one place in a very long time. Thank you for saying it so simply and convincingly.

Dear Ann Landers: Will keeping my home orderly make my children neurotic? A close friend who majored in psychology says it will. I was raised in a clean house where the rule was, "A place for everything and everything in its place." Mother taught us that when your surroundings are cluttered your mind is cluttered. I know this is true because I am at my calmest and happiest when my home, closets and shelves are in perfect order. In other words, my emotional condition is directly connected to the condition of my home.

My friend insists that when children are reared with so much emphasis on orderliness they are too "programmed." and it can result in a series of hangups which stifles creativity. We would like your views on this.--- Neat And Comfy

Dear N. and C.: Since you were raised with that philosophy I can see why you believe in it, but I have known people whose homes were models of perfection and their minds were not only uncluttered but sterile. My own desk usually looks like a dog's breakfast but I know where everything is and no one had better move a thing, under the threat of death.

Dear Ann Landers: In your answer to "one" on January 9, you said, "In no state in the union is marriage between members of the same sex considered valid." I beg to differ with you. An article in the New York Times, dated January 7, 1972, reported that a marriage license was issued to two men on August 16, 1971, in Minneapolis. On September 3, 1971, they were married by a minister of the United Methodist Church in a private ceremony.

Please retract your statement in the name of accuracy. Your apologies are accepted.--- I'm One, Too

Dear One: Sorry, you haven't kept up with the latest. I suggest that you get current in the name of accuracy. That so- called marriage between those two fellows was deemed null and void. The bride and groom are now in the courts trying to get a reversal. To date, they have been unsuccessful. Your apologies are accepted.

Got those wedding bell blues over costs... guest list... what to wear... and other details? Ann Landers' completely new "The Bride's Guide" will help. For a copy, send a dollar bill, plus a long, self- addressed, stamped envelope (16c postage) to Ann Landers, Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

Cline said 12 persons, including four troopers, may be employed in the office within a few months of its opening.

House Bill 539 would increase the total number of troopers to 800 and the Lieutenants from 25 to 30. The two sponsors of the bill are influential members of the House and expect no opposition, Cline said. Copeland is the powerful chairman of the Banking Committee and Wallis is considered an expert on highway patrol matters, having been a former Troop E patrol commander.

Blankenship helps SEMS

CAPE GIRARDEAU-- With bats booming and pitching near perfect, Southeast Missouri State University's baseball team will open the MIAA season Saturday with an 8- 0 record.

In the conference opener the Tribe will face Central Missouri State's Mules in a 1 p.m. doubleheader at Capaha Park.

Despite an 8- 0 record, Indian diamond chief Joe Uhls is entering the conference season cautiously. Uhls said he knows little about how the Mules have done so far this season but feels they will be a real tough team to contend with.

He recalled, "Last year they had a good young team and most of them are back along with a couple of very good pitchers."

Southeast Missouri State swept a pair last week from Luther College of Decorah, Iowa, 2- 1 and 4- 0, and the following afternoon dealt a tough Christian Brothers College team two setbacks, 5- 2 and 4- 1.

The Indians kept their record unblemished Wednesday by taking a pair from the University of Illinois--- Chicago, 5- 1, and 8- 7.

When the season started, Uhls was concerned whether his pitching staff, lacking in experience, and his unproven hitters would be able to give the team a winning formula.

His pessimism is slowly being erased as the Indians have shown they can get the hits when they are needed and score the runs necessary to win.

The pitching staff has been nothing short of superb in the early going, as five Indian pitchers turned in seven straight complete games before Puxico sophomore Steve Shelton was forced to give way to the bullpen in the second game Wednesday.

Through the first six games the Indian mound staff had a combined ERA of 1.29.

Ace lefthander Galen McSpadden of Puxico pitched two of the complete games while Steve Elfrank of Festus had two also and Charles Powell of Crystal City one.

Two freshmen also claimed complete game victories in their college debuts.

Sikeston's Bob Blankenship went the distance in one of the CBC games and Jackson's Terry Bazzell went all the way against Chicago.

The Tribe also has an impressive batting figure as through the first six games the Indians had a team average of .281. Power has also been present on the Indian reservation. In the twinbill with Chicago, the Indians had four home runs, doubling the total for the first six games.

Uhls is very pleased with the pitching so far and said, "The hitting hasn't been that bad." Still, he feels it is a bit early to tell how good the season ahead is likely to be.

The veteran coach said of his team's good start, "We were in good shape when the season started. We were able to be outside more this spring than any since I've been here and this has helped us a lot, especially in the games with Centenary and CBC."

Uhls has listed McSpadden as a starter for one of the MIAA games Saturday but is undecided on who will start the other.

Indians sign DS Star

CAPE GIRARDEAU-- A 6- 7, 230- pound Chaffee High School senior, who hits the books as hard as he hits the boards, has decided to play basketball for Southeast Missouri State University, Indians Coach Bob Cradid said today.

Scott Michael Thomas of 129 W. Parker, Chaffee, who averaged 18 rebounds and 23 points a game during the past season, will enter the university in the fall. He plans to major in accounting.

Coached by J.F. Dopp, Thomas started in basketball at Chaffee for three years, was captain of the squad this year, and was named to the Scott- Mississippi Conference all- star team as both a junior and senior.

He has also lettered in football and baseball, has been on the All- Conference baseball team for three consecutive years, and was chosen an All- State punter in 1972.

Thomas has been on the honor roll every semester since he entered the seventh grade, and he has been named to the Sikeston Standard's All- Academic team for three straight years. He was a delegate to Boys State and was chosen for listing in "Outstanding Teenagers of America."

Currently serving as vice president of the Beta Club, he was vice president of the Student Council during the 1971- 72 year and was president of his class during 1970- 71.

East Prairie stops Devils

EAST PRAIRIE — Coach Jim Orr's EPHS Eagles ended the Chaffee Red Devils win streak at two and stretched their own to two with a 6-4 Scott- Miss conference win here Thursday afternoon. Chaffee is 2-1 in league play and overall after the loss. The Eagles are 1-0 in conference.

Tim Bard out dualed Mike Heeb in the contest with relief help from Steve Secoy, who finished the last two innings.

Chaffee jumped out in front, scoring two runs in the top of the first inning and East Prairie scored a single run in each of the second and fourth innings. Chaffee crossed the plate two more times in the top of the fifth and led 4-2 at this point but the Eagles came roaring back in the bottom half of the inning and scored four big runs to take the lead and the game.

John Richbourg and Heeb hit doubles for the Eagles and Bard cracked a two bagger for the Eagles. Allen Carter had the games only four bagger as the Eagle first baseman drove in three runs in the game. Scott Thomas batted in two runs for the Red Devils.

Hayti wins

HAYTI — Coach Jerry Cecils HHS Indians creamed Leachville, Ark. here Wednesday afternoon to the tune of 13-2.

Bobby Alexander was the winning pitcher for Hayti, allowing only four safties and struckout eight in his four inning stint before being relieved in the top of the fifth by Danny White.

The Indians had to overcome a two run deficit after the half inning as Leachville crossed the plate twice on a two run homer by Bob Brock. Hayti quickly regained the lead in the bottom of the first as they cased home four runs on three hits.

After the first inning the Indians kept padding their lead adding runs in each of the remaining four innings.

SPORTS

Nastase was fined $500 and reprimanded by the Independent Players Association.

Orange ball takes beating

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Take it from a man who knows—Gaylord Perry—the new orange baseballs are slippery and hard to grip.

The Cleveland pitcher, who has been accused at times of throwing a spit ball, was on the mound Thursday as the gaudy, experimental balls had their coming-out party.

They must have been hard to control, for sure, because 16 runs were scored in a hitter's day that produced an 11-5 exhibition game victory for the Indians over Oakland.

"The pitchers were not able to grip it correctly," said Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, echoing complaints voiced by Perry and Oakland's Jim Hunter.

Kuhn, at the game to watch the use of the fancy balls recommended by A's owner Charles O. Finley, observed Cleveland's George Hendrick hit three of them out of the park.

The baseball czar decided at once that they weren't practical as is.

Finley, who incidentally wasn't on hand to watch the debut of his brainchild, originally felt that a solid orange ball would be better for the batters to see than a white one.

In Thursday's other games, the Cincinnati Reds stopped the Chicago White Sox 5-2; the Kansas City Royals trimmed the Montreal Expos 4-2; the Baltimore Orioles nipped the New York Yankees 3-2; the Atlanta Braves blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0; the Chicago Cubs tripped the San Francisco Giants 9-8 in 12 innings; the New York Mets beat the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1 and the Boston Red Sox turned back the Detroit Tigers 3-2.

Rain canceled four games — Philadelphia-Houston, TexasMinnesota and contests involving split Milwaukee squads with Los Angeles and California.

Johnnys Bench, apparently recovered from lung surgery over the winter, drove in two runs to pace Cincinnati's victory over Chicago. The Reds' most valuable catcher singled across the runs off loser Terry Forster in the fifth inning.

Wayne Simpson, a trade acquisition this past winter from Cincinnati, allowed only five hits in pitching Kansas City over Montreal in a game halted after seven innings because of darkness. Amos Otis struck a home run for the winners.

The Orioles won their game on Don Baylor's leadoff homer in the eighth off Steve Kline. The Yanks had tied the game in the seventh on Felipe Alou's two-run homer.

Gary Gentry pitched seven innings of scoreless ball as Atlanta defeated Pittsburgh. The Braves scored their winning runs in the first inning on three walks off Luke Walker, a fielder's choice and Dave Johnson's single.

Cleo James' two-out single drove home Glenn Beckert with the winning run to give the Cubs their 12-inning triumph over San Francisco. The game took almost 3½ hours to play.

Jon Matlack limited St. Louis to two hits in seven innings and the Mets scored the decisive run on a throwing error to beat the Cardinals.

Designated hitter Orlando Cepeda drove in two runs, one with an eighth-inning double, as Boston rallied for its victory over Detroit.

Cards trim roster

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Left- hander Lance Clemons, 25, was sent Thursday to the Boston Red Sox by the St. Louis Cardinals in completing a trade made earlier this year to acquire right- hander Mike Nagy.

Clemons posted an 8-4 record with the Cards' Tulsa farm team in the American Associaiton last season. He was acquired originally from the Houston Astros along with Scipio Spinks in exchange for Jerry Reuss.

Consummation of the deal with the Red Sox left the Cardinals with 31 players, including 14 pitchers. The Cards must reduce their roster to 25 players by the start of the National League season next week.

White Sox AL pick

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's been so long since the Chicago White Sox won a pennant that they'd probably settle for a half-pennant this year. That's probably what they'll get, too.

Slugger Richie ("Call me Dick") Allen is happy, pitcher Wilbur Wood is hearty and the Oakland A's are not as strong as you might think.

That adds up to a West title for the White Sox in the American League, their first champions of any kind since 1959.

"This is the strongest offensive team in White Sox history," says Manager Chuck Tanner. Only those who saw the 1919 edition with Shoeless Joe Jackson might dispute the statement, but the White Sox do have power to burn for the 1973 baseball season.

Allen, the AL's MVP last year with 37 home runs, 113 runs batted and a .308 batting average, signed a three-year contract in the fancy $675,000 neighborhood this year and showed his gratitude by reporting to spring training camp on time. You knew he was really grateful, because he hadn't done that since his rookie season with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Joining the free-swinging first baseman in the lineup this year will be Bill Melton, who's coming back from injury, and Ken Henderson obtained in a trade with the San Francisco Giants. To obtain the slugging Henderson, the White Sox gave up pitcher Tom Bradley in a deal some think may have been lopsided in the Giants' favor. But Tanner doesn't think so. He's planning to get more work out of two 20-game winners, Wilbur Wood and Stan Bahnsen.

The A's are the defending World Champions, but may have dealt themselves out of another West championship with a puzzling, off-season trade that sent leading home run hitter Mike Epstein to Texas for relief pitcher Horacio Pina. Epstein had a personality clash with Manager Dick Williams last year, but the trade made the A's look ridiculous in some quarters.

Although obtained catcher Ray Fosse from Cleveland in a later deal, the A's still lack the proper long-ball clout to be a pennant-winner. Reggie Jackson, now the only palpable home run threat in the lineup, will be troubled by the absence of Epstein. With no big bouncer hitting behind the lefthanded slugger, the opposition can more easily pitch around him.

The A's still have some of the best pitching in the American League with the likes of Jim "Catfish" Hunter Vida Blue, John "Blue Moon" Odom and Ken Holtzman and a brilliant relief corps headed by Rollie Fingers. That's what will make the West interesting to the end.

While the West shapes up as a likely two-team fight, the East is every man for himself. No one in particular has an apparent lock on the crown and it could be an instant replay of last year when four teams went down to the bitter end before Detroit pulled it out.

The Baltimore Orioles might be given a slight edge because of their potential, with the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Tigers involved in the mad scramble.

The Orioles' perennial pennant-winners fell apart last season with every regular having sub-par seasons. It shouldn't happen again this season and besides the Orioles have secured a power hitter to drive in runs for their tough pitching staff-catcher Earl Williams.

The Yankees probably are the most improved team in the east, with the acquisition of outfielder Felipe Alou and third baseman Graig Nettles. With Bobby Murcer coming off his finest slugging year, New York has its most powerful offensive unit since the Mantle-Maris days.

The Red Sox, who took the Tigers down to the final series of the year before wilting in 1972, have a veteran team that might be stronger with the acquisition of Orlando Cepeda. The righthanded slugger will be the designated pinch-hitter in cozy Fenway Park.

With their hitting, good defense and a pitching staff headed by Marty Pattin, the Red Sox figure to finish ahead of the Tigers. Detroit's pitching is suspect, despite the presence of 22-game winner Mickey Lolich. The Tigers, also, appear to have too many players who have seen their better days.

The Cleveland Indians and Milwaukee Brewers figure to hold up the East. Gaylord Perry, a 24-game winner, is one of the few bright spots in the Cleveland picture. But there's some suspicion that the righthander can repeat another year like that at the age of 35.

The Indians gave up too much in trades to be called a contender and might have a tough time, even, keeping ahead of Milwaukee. The Brewers, also, were guilty of trading away too much for too little. They obtained infielder Don Money from the Philadelphia Phillies but at a price that puzzled some savvy baseball folks. Jim Lonborg, the Brewers' top man, was traded away with three other major league pitchers.

In the West, Chicago and Oakland appear to be all alone unless neither plays up to potential. In that case, the California Angels could make it hot in that division.

The Angels, lacking a longball offense last year, brought some power to town with the addition of Frank Robinson. Also coming to the Angels in the deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers was pitcher Bill Singer. He'll join a sparkling staff headed by Nolan Ryan, Clyde Wright and Rudy May.

The Kansas City Royals, Minnesota Twins and Texas Rangers will probably finish in that order to complete the West standings this season.

The Royals have some solid hitting with John Mayberry, Amos Otis, Lou Piniella and Cookie Rojas, but their pitching staff is weak; the Twins' pitching isn't bad with Bert Blyleven the ace, but the rest of the team has too many holes to consider them seriously and the Rangers will finish last with possibly the worst team in baseball.

Murder suspect given to April 5 to get attorney

CHARLESTON-- Gary Wayne Woods, 28, of East Prairie was given to April 5 to employ an attorney to represent him on a first degree murder charge Thursday morning by Magistrate T.J. Brown Jr.

Woods, who remains in custody in lieu of $10,000 bond, is charged with shooting Manuel Gilliam of Matthews Route One with a .22 caliber pistol March 24.

Larry Donnell Scott and Carl Edward Cassell of Charleston waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to Circuit Court on stealing charges. An attorney was appointed to represent Scott. The two are charged with breaking into Bryant's Jewelry Store in Charleston on March 17 and stealing merchandixe valued at $5,668.

A preliminary hearing was scheduled for April 5 for Jerry Whitney and R.J. Betts of Charleston on felony charges of burglary and stealing. They are accused of breaking into Wigdor's Dollar Store in Charleston on Feb. 19 and stealing four pairs of tennis shoes and 15 pairs of men's pants.

Also set for April 5 was a preliminary hearing for Sylvester Smith of Charleston, who is accused of stealing three guns from the office of Sheriff W.J. "Pedro" Simmons on March. 2.

A preliminary hearing for Donald Gene Williams of East Prairie was set for April 5. Williams is charged with stealing from the Tru- Valu IGA Foodliner on March 20.

A charge of felonious assault against Oliver Williams Sr. of Wyatt was continued to April 5. Bond for Williams, accused of stabbing James Clark of Wyatt on March 24 was set at $1,500.

Charges of disturbing the peace against James Clark, Pearlie Mae Swift, Oliver Williams Jr. and Essie Mae Welch, all of Wyatt, brought each a 15- day suspended sentence. The four were placed on six- month probation and ordered to pay $20.98 each for court costs.

Bond for Eugene Fowler, alias Eugene Murr, was set at $5,000 on a felony charge of tampering with a motor vehicle. His case is to be called April 5.

Miller Otis Martin of East Prairie was arraigned on first degree burglary and stealing charges and his case was continued to April 5. Martin is free on $1,500 bond.

In misdemeanor cases, Mark Danial Archie of East Prairie was levied a $21 fine for defective brakes; James Anthony Hall of Charleston, written plea of guilty to a charge of no truck license, fined $26; and Marilyn McClanahan of Kewanee, uttering check with intent to defraud, fined $26.

VAN OF LEARNING

ELGIN, Ill. (AP) — The Elgin YWCA Action Van, a self-contained camper trailer, has lived up to its name during the year it has been in operation.

Mrs. Vernon Patton, YWCA urban affairs director, said the van has been used for activities ranging from children's cooking classes to a standing-room-only meeting of parents and school faculty.

On Thursdays the van is open for women to sew, knit or type.

Prayer for today

from the Upper Room

Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart. (I Kings 3:9)

PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, help us to know each other better. May we, with hearts full of compassion and understanding, find and follow Thy way which leads to the full realization of Thy kingdom here on earth as it is in heaven. Amen.

What's the law?

The case of the lionized corpse

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Horace operated his affairs with the strength and courage of a lion and, in fact, used the lion as the emblem and symbol for all of his many successful business ventures. Consequently, when Horace the Lion- Hearted ultimately died, his thoughtful widow placed two large stone lions on the family plot which, unfortunately, immediately created a grave situation. The proprietor of the cemetery wanted no lions in his cemetery, dead or alive.

"It's our plot," insisted Horace's widow, "and I can put anything on it I want. Besides, no epitaph could say more about my husband than those statues. And everybody is entitled to a proper memorial."

"Being memorialized is one thing," responded the proprietor of the cemetery, "but being lionized is another. A cemetery is supposed to be a place of peace and quiet. With fierce looking lions on the grounds, instead of a place of rest, the cemetery would be a place of unrest."

The dispute had to be resolved in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order the removal of the stone lions from the cemetery?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that lions are too unusual an ornament for a cemetery. If they were permitted, concluded the judge, there would be no telling what monstrosities others might decide to erect.

Ground broken for ice cream factory

50 years ago
March 30, 1923

Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, pastor of St. Johns Methodist Church, St. Louis, will lecture on "Europe and America," at the local Methodist Church on Friday evening, April 27th.

Ground was broken Tuesday for the building which is to house the new ice cream factory in Sikeston. The site is the lot at the northwest corner of Front and Scott streets and formerly owned by R.C. Matthews. Edw. Hebbeler and H.F. Meyer of New Haven, Mo., who are building the factory, were in Sikeston the latter part of last week and while here engaged the Sikeston Concrete, Tile and Construction Co., to erect the factory at a cost of approximately $8,000. The building will be of brick and will be two stories in height. The lower floor will be devoted to the factory, while the second story will contain living quarters.

The Methodist Church at Oran will be dedicated Easter by Bishop W.F. McMurry of St. Louis.

A decisive victory for shippers of grain from Southeast Missouri, as well as for farmers who grow grain here was gained March 21st, when the Interstate Commerce Commission permanently suspended proposed increases in freight rates on grain, flour and feeds shipped from Southeast Missouri to Memphis and other Southern points or to New Orleans for export.

One of the outstanding signs of prosperity is under construction about five miles east and north of Sikeston on the Miner- Blodgett gravel road in the form of a huge dairy barn being built for James Paullus, local diaryman.

As predicted in an exclusive article last issues of this newspaper, the Board of Public Works and the City Council Monday unanimously passed an order cancelling light and power bill of Municipal Light and Power plant customers due and payable April 1.
